ANOTHER "DEPARTURE."

Disappointed Politicians Meet in Boston and Organize a New Party—Gen. Banks Not a Candidate for President—A Platform and Resolutions Adopted.

BOSTON, August 21.—A new National Union party, with Gen. N. P. Banks for President, and L. J. C. Lamar, of Mississippi, as Vice President, was organized here to-night by appointing a State Central Committee and adopting a platform and resolutions. No prominent man of either party took part. The resolutions denounce the Republican and Democratic parties as partisan organizations and dangerous; condemn enormous frauds on the Government, dishonest public officials, and great monopolies and corporations, as tending to oppress the people; characterize the sudden inflation or contraction of the currency as dangerous, and state that the only way to specie resumption is to make the promise of the nation as valuable as a private note, etc. No encouragement is to be given to sectional enmity.

Gen. Banks sent a letter, saying he was not a candidate for the Presidency, and did not want his name to stand in the way of that government reform which four-fifths of the people demand.

Terrible Encounter With a Burglar.

NEW YORK, August 21, 1875.

Poisoned by Copper.

The entire family of Thurlow Weed have been prostrated by the use of a copper kettle, which had been cleaned with oxalic acid, particularly Weed himself, who is now recovering.

Arrival of the American Rifle Team.

The steamship City of Berlin, which arrived this evening, brought home the American rifle team. The reception committee, composed of delegates from the National and amateur rifle associations, with the Governor's Island band, and a large number of invited guests, both ladies and gentlemen, went down the bay in the afternoon, on a steamer placed at their disposal by the Quarantine Commission. About six o'clock the City of Berlin arrived inside Sandy Hook, and was greeted with salutes from the reception committee's steamer and the police boat, and the national airs of America, Ireland and England from the bands on the waiting steamers. A procession of a dozen or more steamers moved slowly up the bay, the City of Berlin at the head, with whistles blowing, bands playing and cheers from the crowds on board heavily loaded excursion boats, which formed part of the escorting fleet. A salute of thirteen guns was fired from Fort Tompkins, on Staten Island, in honor of the team as the vessel passed in. When the City of Berlin came to anchor at Quarantine she was boarded by the reception committee and the team taken on board their vessel, and brought to the city, the intervening time being passed in an exchange of congratulations, speeches and general hilarity. At the Battery, a section of artillery, belonging to the State militia, fired a salute of forty guns while the team and escort disembanked.

Soon after the members of the team stepped on board the reception steamer, and the cheering had subsided and they had been introduced to the greater part of the company by Mr. Charles A. O'Rourke, the chronicler of their triumphs in Ireland and England, the team was ranged in line, and Gen. Shaler delivered an address of welcome. He said that the National Rifle Association were proud of the manner in which their comrades had borne themselves abroad, and their country was proud of the fact that they returned as victors. He then announced the programme of the entertainment.

Colonel Gildersleeve, captain of the team, responded. He said there was but one word by which he could call them all—"Friends." He could not sufficiently thank them for their reception. The team had seen beautiful cities and beautiful faces, but none with such pleasure as those they witnessed to-night. They owed their success to harmony and system, and it was with the greatest pleasure and pride he could say that during a period of three months not a single unkind word had been exchanged.

Colonel Gildersleeve was frequently interrupted by applause, and at the conclusion of his speech cheers were given for the American team, Irish team and Ireland.

Alderman Purry made a speech of welcome in behalf of the city. The riflemen are in fine health and spirits, and on arriving at the Battery were driven to their respective homes, where they were visited by personal friends and admirers.

An Investigating Committee Quarreling.

The members of the Legislative Committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the Emigration Commissioners, after examining witnesses, yesterday, became involved in a verbal altercation, which became bitter and severe. NEW YORK, August 22, 1875.

Terrible Encounter with a Burglar.

James H. Noe, Sr., of James H. Noe & Sons, brush manufacturers, No. 275 Greenwich street, while inspecting his store this morning, discovered a burglar. He turned to arrest him, but was knocked down with an iron bar, and then bound and robbed of a watch and money. When Mr. Noe returned to consciousness the burglar asked him for the safe keys. Noe informed him they were not in his possession, when the burglar struck him a second time, fracturing the base of his skull. The burglar then obtained a pail of water, placed it beside Mr. Noe, washed his hands, and left, threatening to return and "finish the job" if any outcry was made before he had time to make good his escape. Finally Mr. Noe attracted attention by cries, and obtained assistance. He was taken to a hospital. He will probably die. No arrests.

A DESPERATE GOLD MINER.

John Gordon Released on Parole—He Surrenders It, and then Endeavors to Escape, but is Finally Lodged in a Military Prison—Two Suits Entered Against Gen. Ruggles and His Assistants.

OMAHA, August 21.—John Gordon, the Black Hills miner who was brought here some weeks ago by order of the Court on a writ of habeas corpus, was released on parole. This morning he and his lawyer appeared at the office of Gen. Ruggles, Adjutant General of the Department of the Platte, surrendered his parole, and then by direction of his counsel, attempted to escape. The General immediately ordered the clerks and orderlies, who are enlisted men, to arrest him. But he offered the most emphatic resistance, and was assisted by his lawyer. He was, however, arrested, and taken to Omaha barracks, where he is now confined in the guard house. He has had Gen. Ruggles arrested for false imprisonment, and afterward had the General and clerks arrested for assault and battery. The trial of both cases was postponed till Wednesday.

MRS. LINCOLN.

The Wife of the Martyr President Pronounced Well Enough to Leave the Asylum.

CHICAGO, August 21.—A correspondent of the Post and Mail, writing from St. Charles, in the vicinity of Bellevue Asylum, says: "You will be glad to learn, and this is the first public intimation of it, that Mrs. Lincoln is pronounced well enough to leave the asylum and visit her sister, Mrs. Edwards, of Springfield. It is not likely that she will return to Bellevue, as there is some feeling evinced in the matter of her incarceration by friends who refuse to believe her insane. A leading lady lawyer of Chicago has been with her much of late, and with the assistance of her legal husband, will assist Mrs. Lincoln's restoration to the world. She is decidedly better, sleeps and eats well, and shows no tendency to any mania. But whether the cure is permanent or not, the test of active life and time will show."

Irregularities of an Indian Agent.

ST. LOUIS, August 21.—The Kansas City special to the Republican says: A Times reporter, who has just arrived from the Osage agency, in the Indian Territory, states that the investigation by the commissioners appointed by Commissioner Hoag, in relation to the charges of fraud and incompetency against J. T. Gibson, Indian agent for the Osage Indians, was slowly coming to an end. A number of very damaging facts had already been proven against the agent, among which was that of having two sets of vouchers signed in regard to paying certain money and supplies to Indians, and other charges of a like character. One of the members of the commission is E. C. Kimball, of New York, who last spring was a member of the commission who completely "white-washed" this same Indian Agent, Gibson, when charged with irregularities in his agency.

NASBY REDIVIVUS.

Mr. Nasby Goes to Ohio to Assist in Organizing a County for Allen and Cary—The Misfortune that Befell Him.

PETTUSES CORNERS, WHICH IS IN SOUTHERN OHIO, August 2, 1875.

Ther hez bin a heep uv trouble crowded into the seventy year that I hev lived onto this earth—probably more than hez fallen to the lot uv any one man now livin. Them es hez seen ez much trouble ez I hev, all died under it. I live becoz uv a mind that laffs at misforchoon, and defies fate. And besides I hev suthin to live for. So long ez ther's a barl uv whisky attainable and a Dimekratic party, I perpose to exist. When they go out I shel probably succom.

I am hevin my regler amount ov trouble now. Jest ez soon ez the day come for the Dimekratic state convenshun at Columbus, I went over to Pettuses Corners, in Ohio, to assist in organizen that county for the ensooin e'eckshun, for I realized the fact that ez Ohio goes this fall so the next presidenshal eleckshun goes, and that the party calls upon every Dimekrat to do his whole dooty. For me success next year is a necessity. That post offis at the Corners must be mine then if ever. Failyoor would break my heart.

Pettuses Corners is the most Dimekratic uv all the villages in southern Ohio. It has a populashen uv say 500, which supports six prosprous groseries, two good bars at taverns and a small skool house, which hez never bin finished, and in wich the Methodists hold their meetins. It is a very small skool house, but it is large enuff for the meetins on Sunday. The inhabitants mostly devote theirselves to politics and the groseries. The county offishels pay fur the likker uv the rest uv the citizens, w ch makes it a soft thing all around.

I arrived at Pettuses the nite uv the day uv the convenshun, and wuz welcomed with open arms. I got the Democrisy together to ratify the nominashuns, that we mite go into the campane with that enthoosiasm wich is necessary to success. We waited for the nominashens impatiently, and finally they came:

For Govenor—Willyum Allen.

For Lieut. Govenor—Samyooel F. Cary.

"Three cheers," I sung out, "for Allen and Cary!"

The cheers wuz given with a will. The Dimokrisy uv Pettuses Corners are excellent at cheerin.

The platform adopted by the convenshun hadn't come to hand, but I didn't care. I proseeded to draft a resolushen or two, for I knowd the candydates so well—I wuz so well posted as to their antesedents and utterances—that I felt perfectly certain wat the platform woz on wich they wuz placed, and wrote the resolushens accordin. The follerin wuz the first:

Resolved, That it it is the yoonanmous expreshun of the Dimocrisy uv Pettuses Corners, that in nominatin fur Governor Willyum Allen, the elokent champien uv hard money, the Dimekratic State convenshun merits the gratitood not only uv the Dimocrisy ov the Yoonited States but uv every honest man. That his ringin denunshiashen uv dirty rag-money, and his upholdin uv the Dimocratic idea of hard money, will, in the future ez in the past, be potent for the pertecksbun uv a long sufferin and opprest people.

"My friends," sed I, drawin' myself up so ez to resemble Dan'l Webster ez much ez possible, "before yoo take a vote on this resoolooshen, I hev a word to say. Willyum Allen, Ole Bill Allen, honest Ole Bill Allen, is emfatikally the people's friend. In the senit, and on the stump, by voice and pen, honest, true ole Bill Allen hez demanded that gold, hard honest gold, only shood be considered money, and that the dirty, filthy rag money ishood by a Black Republican congris be stampt out. That demand he renoos to-day—that demand a Dimekratic state convenshun hez made by nominatin' him, and let us, the Dimokrisy of Pettuses Corners, nailin our kulors, 'Hard money forever,' to the mast, pass this resoolooshen."

The speech fecht 'em, and the resolooshen wuz passed with sich emphasis ez I never seed. Then three rousin cheers wuz given for Honest Ole Bill Allen.

So far so good. They passed this resolooshen easily, for ez none uv 'em ever had any money they never wuz pertikeler ez to wat pertikeler kind they endorsed; but the next step wuz reely a delikit one. I hed knowed Sam Cary for years, and knowed him ez the very hed and front uv the temperance party uv the State. I knowed he wuz a son of Temperance and the most intolerable prohibishinist the state hed ever bin cust with. I hed myself heerd him denounce the likker seller ez only fit to be hung, and it hed bin my pleasin dooty to help rotten-egg him on several occashens when he wuz makin rabid temperance speeches. Hence I coodent quite understand why he wuz put upon the tikket. But I persoomed that our leaders had determined on a bold strike to ketch the temperance vote, relyin on the known caracter uv the party to hold the whisky vote. So to give Samyool a send-off I introdoost this resoolooshen:

Resolved, That the Demokrisy uv Pettusses Corners endorse the nominashun uv Samyooel Cary, heartily, and likewise the principles he hez so long and ably advokated. That the likker traffic is a evil wich shood be mitigatid and finelly eradicatid.

There wuz sum murmurin at this, but I told em it wuz no yoose to murmer; that we hed to carry the state, and that the end justified the means. And they passed it with three cheers for Cary and prohibishen.

Then we adjourned to the various groceries, and the candidates worked up a great deal uv Dimekratic enthoosiasm.

The next mornin we assembled at Splidden's grosery to get the Cincinnati papers with the full perceedins uv the convenshun, wich when they arrived I read.

"Why this paleuis uv face and this ghastly bloomis uv nose?" demanded the sheriff.

"Run!" I exclaimed, "run fur your lives. Stop the Battle Axe uv Freedom, (wich wuz the Dimekratic paper of Pettuses Corners), from getting out the proceedins uv last nite's ratification meetin."

It wuz too late; the editor showed enterprise enough for wunst in his life, and hed the paper out with the proceedins in full, and a stunnin editorial endorsin the resolushens.

"Wat is the matter?" exclaimed the entire crowd, seein that suthin uncommon moved me.

"Gentlemen, we hev made a mistake," I remarket, with as much camnis ez I cood command. "The Dimekratic State convention hez gone and put ole Bill Allen on a rag money platform, and Samyool Cary on a whisky platform. I will never trust a Dimekrat's record agin.

There wuz only one thing to do. The Dimekratic mind is flexible and versateel. We merely met agin that nite and passed the rite resoolooshens endorsin' Allen and Cary and the platform on wich the convenshun put 'em; and we passed 'em with just ez much enthoosiasm ez we did them uv the precedin' evenin', and everything is serene and harmonious agin.

I shel stay in this country and organise the party thoroughly before goin' to my old Kentucky home.

Daring Robbery at Youngstown.

Peter and William Coyle are coal miners who reside at Mill Creek, and keep house with a niece as housekeeper. About three o'clock Wednesday afternoon, while Miss Coyle was sleeping in the house, a tramp coal miner named Hugh Graham, who had worked one day in the Mill Creek coal mine, entered the house and stole two gold watches, a revolver, some handkerchiefs, and a certificate of deposit from the First National Bank for $5,750. Miss Coyle was disturbed by the man leaving the house, and she got up soon after, when she missed the watches, and learning from a neighbor that a man had just left the house, she felt assured that he had taken them, and started in pursuit, unattended by anybody. She frantically inquired of everybody she met to learn the whereabouts of the man, who was finally discovered in Curry's saloon on West Federal street. She pushed her way through the crowd that was there and early demanded of him if he had stolen her watches. He pushed her away and indignantly denied the theft, but the girl saw a charm attached to the chain hanging from his pocket, and recognizing it as belonging to one of the watches, she sprang forward and jerked the chain, together with both watches, from his pocket. He also gave her the certificate of deposit. The man would probably have escaped with the other stolen articles but for the timely action of Marshal Evans, who heard of the affair about the watches, and and started out in search of the man, who was discovered in front of Curry's saloon. A desperate struggle ensued, but with the assistance of the ex-policeman Riley, the man was finally safely lodged in the lock-up. Here he was searched, and a revolver, six pocket handkerchiefs and a silver chain were recovered. He was arraigned before Justice Edwards, Thursday morning, by whom be was held under $2,000 bonds for his appearance at the next term of Court, in default of which he was taken to the Canfield jail.—Register and Tribune.

SECOND EDITION.

SANKEY AT HOME.

The Reception Accorded Him—A Quiet but Hearty Welcome—The Evangelist Among his Old Companions—What they Think of Him—Addresses by Mr. Sankey and Others.

Special to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NEW CASTLE, August 22, 1875.

This is the home of the great Evangelist, Ira D. Sankey, and since last Wednesday he has been among his friends. The good people of the town, irrespective of denominational affinities, thought it would be appropriate to welcome him home again by some public demonstration that would at once attest the esteem in which he is held by his neighbors and be a cordial fraternal Christian endorsement of his course. To this end the churches all united, and for several days past the chief matter of town talk has been the reception. Meanwhile Mr. Sankey was quietly taking a little rest, alternately stopping with his father, Hon. David Sankey, who lives in town, and with his father-in-law, who resides about two miles from town. He received a few of his more intimate friends, and was as affable and unaffected in his intercourse with all as he was before he left New Castle to "tread the path of fame." He looks well, and says he is in good health, although somewhat wearied with his labors. He proposes, however, after taking a Summer's rest, to commence his work again with renewed vigor in the Autumn, and is hopeful that the Master will abundantly bless his labors.

The committee having in charge the arrangements for the reception, at first thought the meeting could be held in a grove near the town, and thus give all an opportunity to participate; but the prevailing dampness necessitated a change in the programme, as it was feared a rain storm might interrupt the meeting. Accordingly Mr. Rupert Allen, proprietor of the Opera House, very generously put that building at the commands of the committee, and it was decided to hold the reception there. The committee decided also to hold the reception in the afternoon, and to suspend services in all the Protestant Churches in the evening.

This afternoon the crowd began to gather early in front of the Opera House, and at three o'clock the doors were thrown open. In a few minutes the building was packed to its utmost capacity. There were about twenty-two hundred people inside, and yet a thousand outside failed to gain admission and had to return home.

The ministers were provided with seats on the stage, and after the audience had become somewhat quiet, the meeting was called to order by Rev. Dr. J. S. Youman, of the First M. E. Church, and opened by the singing of the "Coronation" hymn:

"All hail the power of Jesus' name."

Rev. Dr. Junkin, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, who was selected as Chairman, then delivered a fervent and eloquent prayer.

Mr. Charles C. Sankey, a cousin to the revivalist, next sang an ode of welcome, which had been especially prepared for the occasion, and was a tender and touching fraternal tribute to the great Evangelist.

After the song, Mr. Cyrus Clarke delivered the address of welcome. He said God had sent Moody and Sankey to do a great work. To the latter he gave the voice of song, and through that song thousands had been brought to the knowledge of Christ. The speaker then dwelt in eloquent and stirring terms upon the great work which the two Evangelists had accomplished, and spoke of the pleasure which all Christians felt at the success which had crowned their efforts. In conclusion, he welcomed their old friend back to his home, and spoke feelingly of the fraternal love with which he was regarded by all, irrespective of denomination, who had heard of their labors, and rejoiced that God had so abundantly blessed them. The address was quite affecting, and made a deep impression upon the audience.

Mr. Sankey, after the speaker sat down, arose and said: "Dear friends, I return you thanks from my heart for this welcome. Heretofore I have refrained from any demonstrations of such a character as this because I thought they were wrong, and I always offer a protest against them. But when I came to my old home, where I first learned to labor in the Lord's vineyard, I thought it best to join you in praising God for what he has done in making us instruments of His. I remember when we left home, not knowing what was before us. We landed in Liverpool and found the friends who invited us over, both dead. We were strangers, but God led us; His Spirit directed us up to a dead town, where we held a prayer meeting, at which there were but four persons present. Afterward more came. People thought we were two Americans with sinister designs. The meetings, however, increased in interest and power, and then the work began which you have read about. A friend asked us to go to York, but the preacher said, 'No; it will interfere with our collections.' We went there, and the church and the collections increased. From London we went to Glasgow, thence to Ireland, and thence to Newcastle-on-Tyne. There the people received us, and the blessing came. The result of our work you have read about. Now, my friends, I thank you for this testimonial; but the honor is not to me, but to Jesus. And now, in conclusion, I will sing a hymn. I am no musician, but I try to sing from my heart."

Mr. Sankey then sang the hymn commencing:

"Rejoice, for the Lord brings back His own."

Rev. H. Calkins then made an address, after which Mr. Sankey sang with great sweetness, "Nothing but leaves." Rev. Dr. Streeter and Rev. Dr. Youmans next made brief addresses.

Rev. Dr. Junkin made the closing speech, in which he said that two years ago Mr. Sankey was sent to Indianapolis as a delegate to the Christain Association. There he was met by John V. Farwell, of Chicago, who said "it is no place for you in a store. Come to Chicago and serve God." Sankey went to Chicago and met Moody. They all knew the rest.

At the conclusion of Dr. Junkin's address, the audience joined in singing the Doxology and were then dismissed with the benediction.

The meeting was quiet, but earnest in character. There was no excitement, but there was a strong fraternal feeling prevailing, which made the meeting a marked occasion. S.

Population of Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, August 21.—The State Register reports the result of the census of Louisana, recently taken in compliance with the requirements of the State Convention, to be: City of New Orleans—whites, 145,721; colored, 157,647; total, 203,398—an increase of 11,966 upon the census of 1870. Population of the whole State: Whites, 404,361; colored, 450,029—an excess of colored over whites of 45,668, and a total increase of 128,115 over the census of 1870. These figures may be subjected to some slight modification, the returns of one or two remote parishes not being complete.

The Fears of Troops Overcome.

VIENNA, August 21.—The 2,500 Turkish troops which landed at Kleck have marched into the interior.

Friendly Offices Accepted.

VIENNA, August 21.—It is reported that Turkey has accepted the friendly offices of foreign powers in securing the restoration of peace in the Northwestern provinces.

The Expedition from Kleck.

The Turkish expedition from Kleck has turned the mountain defile and effected a junction with a force sent from the interior.

The Porte Accepts Friendly Advice.

LONDON, August 23—5:30 A. M.—A special to the Times from Constantinople says the Porte has accepted the proposition of friendly powers to counsel the submission of the insurgents to Turkish authority, and represent to them then the utter hopelessness of foreign intervention.

A Peace Commissioner.

Server Pacha has been appointed special commissioner to examine into the grievances of the disaffected people, and it is confidently expected that the insurrection will soon terminate.

Austrian Intervention.

LONDON, August 23—6 A. M.—A Berlin special to the Times says the Austrian Ambassador at Constantinople suggested to the Turkish Government the expediency of allowing Herzegovina a semi-independent administration. Had this suggestion been accepted, three northern powers would have been prepared to assist its accomplishment. The Porte, however, rejected the proposition. The intervention of Austria is no longer considered altogether improbable. The Austrian Government seems to consider that a change has become indispensible, and that it had best be effected at a time when she may hope to exercise a leading influence.

The Independence of Herzegovina and Bosnia.

The Times, in a leading article, says that if any mode be devised of giving to Herzegovina and Bosnia an independence similar to that of Servia, it will be a great relief to the Porte and an advantage to Europe. The article points to the gradual but inevitable disruption of the Ottoman Empire, and protests against the supposition that the English foreign policy will be governed by the interest of holders of Turkish bonds, and says whenever the moment arrives for further steps towards the liberation of the Turkish outlying provinces, we need not hesitate to assist the movement, if that course appear desirable.

Forts Captured by Montenegrins.

RAGUSA, August 22.—A number of Montenegrins who joined the Herzegovinian insurgents captured seven small forts around Gasko, Duga and Nistki, near the Montenegrin frontier.

SANTANDER, August 22.—It is rumored that serious disturbances have occurred at Estella, and that the arrest and incarceration of Generals Mendiri and Mogrovejo and other Cabinet officers was because of their complicity in a plot against Don Carlos.

GENEVA, August 22.—The National Council has passed resolutions for the suppression of convents and Sisters of Charity.

COLORED CONVENTION.

The Report of the State Superintendent of Education of Virginia Denounced—Equal Rights Demanded.

RICHMOND VA., August 21.—In the Colored Convention, to-day, resolutions were referred denouncing the report of the State Superintendent of Education as the most slanderous and lying document ever issued, and declaring that the negroes of the State ought to be governed alone by negro officers.

A committee of three from each Congressional District was appointed on Labor Union, which met after the Convention, and elected officers for the year. The object of the Union is to secure uniform and better pay.

The Committee on Address submitted a report. It states that local self government is virtually destroyed in some portions of the State, and urges that all citizens, without regard to color, be protected in their rights to serve as jurors, and asks that the Legislature pass no evasive acts which contemplate ruin and disaster to any man, whatever his complexion.

The report further advises the Legislature to diligently strive to inculcate knowledge and intelligence, and closes in the following words: "The colored people of the State confront their white fellow citizens to-day upon high and honorable grounds, eager to adjust all differences for the good of all. They speak wholly for themselves, and put forth these sentiments to intellegent minds and a just God."

The report was adopted, after which the Convention adjourned sine die.

CAMP GALLAGHER.

A Very Pleasant Time Yesterday.

Special to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

MONONGAHELA CITY, August 22, 1875.

To-day, Sunday, the attendance at Camp Gallagher, the beautiful, romantic and decidedly picturesque tenting grounds now held and occupied by the gallant Fourteenth Regiment of the Pennsylvania National Guards, Col. S. Wash. Hill, was simply immense, and the guests and visitors of the "Boys in Blue" enjoyed themselves exceedingly well. The weather was agreeable—much more so than was that of any of the preceding days of the encampment, and the several thousand ladies and gentlemen present, as well as the soldiers themselves, seemed bent on making the Sunday exercises rationally pleasant and worthy of a place in the future recollections of the past. The usual order of military camp exercises were followed from dawn of morn till night, but were charmingly varied to suit the sacredness of the day. The boys and officers appeared in the finest toggery, and presented, when massed together, a martial appearance at once grand and imposing. Your correspondent and his lady friends, through the courtesy and welcome hospitality of Adjutant Howe, partook of dinner at Col. Hill's headquaters, and seldom did any of them partake of a more elegant meal. But how could it have been otherwise, since our experienced friend, Mr. Samuel Robinson, was the master caterer, aided by some five assistant waiters and that prince of cooks, Mr. Emil Manly.

In the afternoon divine worship was held under the tall forest trees, and was reverently participated in by fully one thousand persons. A fervent and beautiful sermon was preached by Rev. M. Boyle, of Monongahela City, and a number of appeals for grace and mercy to the Throne of Grace was offered by religious gentlemen present.

A dress parade in which the regiment appeared to great advantage was held in the afternoon at the close of the religious exercises. The camp will break up to-morrow, much to the regret of all participating.

The excursion train of fifteen cars was employed in the transportation of the guests to the grounds from Pittsburgh, and the nicest order prevailed in the hauling of the masses by the railway officials. Too much credit cannot be awarded to the Superintendent and associates for the very excellent manner in which the excursion was conducted over the pleasant road of the Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston Railway. EXCITEMENT AT A FUNERAL.

A Husband Fired at Over His Wife's Grave.

Domestic Infelicity the Cause of the Reading Tragedy—Mrs. Bessinger and Her Children Driven from Home.

READING, PA., August 21.—There was great excitement here at the funeral of Mrs. Bessinger and her three children, drowned on Tuesday last. It seems from the stories of people that the woman had lived unhappily with her husband, owing to the introduction by him of another woman into the house, and that this unhappiness resulted in a quarrel on Monday, when the husband ordered his wife to leave the house and to take the two girls with her, while he would retain the boy. Next day she went to the canal with the children, and after filling a basket with stones, in which operation the children assisted, she bound the basket securely to her body, and taking the three children in her arms, leaped into the canal, and all were drowned. As soon as the bodies were recovered and taken to their former home the police had to guard the house to save the husband from assault, and the funeral procession to-day, which included about 1,000 people on foot, surrounded his carriage. When the bodies were lowered into the graves the people hooted Bessinger, and made a rush for him. In the confusion one shot was fired, when the police hurriedly placed him in a carriage and drove off, receiving, on passing the cemetery gates, another shot, which, it is thought, wounded him, as he was carried into the house. The police are still on guard, and the people, including many women, continue their threats.

SEASONABLE SPORTS.

The Saratoga Races.

SARATOGA, August 21.—This is the last day of the Saratoga races, and the track is in excellent condition. The first race was for a purse of $500, for beaten horses, one and three-quarter miles. Six horses started: Scratch, General Harney, B. F. Carver, Survivor, Vinaigrette and Willie Burke. The race was won by Survivor, Harney second, Willie Burke third, Vinaigrette fourth, Scratch fifth and Carver sixth. Time 3:08.

There was considerable excitement over the second race, four mile dash, for a purse of $1,400, between Rutherford and Wild Idle. The race was won by Wild Idle by a length. Time, 7:39.

In the one mile and a quarter race Rambler, Paul Pry and Violet started. Rambler won the race, Violet second. Time 2:16¾.

The fourth race was a free handicap for all ages, one mile. Spendrift, Enlister, Vandalite, Vagabond, Kadi, Donnybrook and Willie Burke started. The race was won by Spendrift, Donnybrook second and Lewis' entry third and fourth. Time 1:45.

The fifth and last race was a steeple chase, about three miles, in which Daylight, Dead Head and Shanghraun started. The race was won by Dead Head by two lengths. Daylight and Shanghraun neck and neck. Time 5:40.

The Races at Utica—Goldsmith Maid Trots a Mile in 2:16.

UTICA, August 21.—Over fifteen thousand people attended to-day the close of the Utica Park Association meeting. Rarus won the 2:27 race, Goldsmith Maid the free for all, and John W. Hall the 2:34 race. The Maid won the free for all in three straight heats. Time 2:18¾, 2:17¾, and 2:16. Lulu was entirely off, and broke so badly that she only secured the third place in two heats, and was distanced in the third. American Girl was second in three heats.

Single Scull Race at Hartford.

HARTFORD, August 21.—The three mile single scull boat race between Henry Andrews, of this city, and Patrick Harrington, of Springfield, for $250 a side, was won easily to-day by Harrington in 19:44.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, August 21, 1875.

The Treasury Robbery.

The examination of Theodore W. Brown, arrested on a charge of being concerned in the larceny from the Treasury of $47,000, has been postponed till Monday a week, when the Government promises to show ample cause for the accusation, not only against Brown, but against the other parties under arrest.

The Crops in Kentucky.

LOUISVILLE, KY., August 22.—To-morrow the Courier-Journal will publish crop estimates from all sections of Kentucky and the tobacco counties of adjacent States, showing the average and condition of tobacco compared with 1873, the average and condition of the corn product, of wheat, and other small grain, and the supply of fattening hogs on hand. The largest tobacco crop ever known was planted, but subsequent misfortune reduced it to prospectively a moderate yield, perhaps a light average, if future conditions are favorable. The returns cover a territory which produces about three-fourths of the crop of the United States. The original average corn crop was very great, notwithstanding the weather damages, and a full crop is predicted, wheat about a half to two-thirds crop, rye about the same, and oats damaged much more than the other. The hay crop is large.

VERDICT
In Favor of Howe's Standard Scales.

We, the undersigned, comprising all the wholesale Butchers of Chicago, are using the IMPROVED HOWE STANDARD SCALES, and after using Fairbanks' and other Scales, do find that the improvements in the HOWE Scale render it the best.
We use a scale severely, and find the HOWE to be the strongest.
We weigh out each day over thirty thousand dollars worth of meat, to the retail markets, in various quantities, and require our large scales to weigh small fractions of a pound.
This merit we have found is alone possessed by the IMPROVED HOWE and is maintained after the most severe and longest tests, being attributable to the patent chilled iron balls between the platform and knife edges, on which all friction is received, thus preserving the fine edge of the pivots on which the correct and delicate action of a scale depends.
We also find the IMPROVED HOWE SCALES the most economical, not needing the frequent repairs that Fairbanks' and other scales do.

IF the Democracy are one, irrespective of State lines, and those of Ohio are so utterly worthless as to be cast aside, why should a better treatment be awarded them in this State?

ANTHONY TROLLOPE has issued a novel descriptive of society life in Great Britain, which deals in social sores so definitely that it does not prove entirely acceptible to the English people. The treatment is too caustic to be popular, and the novel is coolly received.

OUR Signal Service system has taken on international proportions. An arrangement was made, at the Vienna International Meteorological Convention, for the interchange of observations, and, thus, we have larger scope and greater efficiency given to the system.

ALLEN declares he will not be choked off. He is a candidate,—and a candidate he will be. He has sense enough to know that he cannot be killed any worse by being terribly beaten at the polls than he will be by being drawn off. So he sticks till the day of death.

THE crop reports from the West continue favorable. It is believed that if the present clear, fair weather continues, there will be a much higher average yield than has been generally anticipated. The papers at the West are in far better mood, and represent the farmers as much more hopeful than they have been.

THE securities of the Turkish Government have declined heavily in the London market,—a fact which points conclusively to the truth that serious fears are entertained as to the issue of the war in which she is engaged. There are, without doubt, serious complications in the affair, and they may even lead to a general European war. The great powers are evidently alarmed at this prospect.

THE "No Popery" feature of the Ohio campaign has not developed very strongly in view of the excitement displayed over the currency issue. Yet it is evident that the leaders of the Democratic party fully realize the importance of that feature, and know as well that it has alienated from them many votes. Thurman agrees that the presence of this trouble is certain to cost them dearly.

EVIDENCE accumulates that the leading Democrats of Ohio have utterly given up all hopes of success in the present canvass. Cary is cursed, as a poltroon, adventurer, and demagogue, and the fate of the ticket attributed to him. Others condemn the financial plank in the platform, and charge defeat on that. While disagreeing as to causes, there is no division as to one essential fact,—that Allen and Cary will be beaten out of sight.

THE way in which the Ring business is managed in cities is something wonderful. In Philadelphia, the Bulletin is classed as a Ring paper, and the Times is, par excellence, independent, pure, and watchful of the interests of the people. Yet the Bulletin is exposing in the most positive manner, certain rascalities that attend the construction of the new Municipal Hall, while the Times and all the other independents are silent as death. The Bulletin, if it shall rouse public sentiment, will have done a good work. It is strange how such things go.

INFORMATION received as to the causes given for the arrest of the negroes in Georgia, shows that it was either a scare on the part of the whites, or a deliberate attempt, on the part of the White Leaguers, to persecute and terrorize the negroes. We more than suspect the latter to be the case. It is entirely improbable that negroes, peaceable and quiet, should organize for a general massacre of the whites. More than this, they had done nothing that looked like such a purpose. If those arrested should be maltreated, the Georgia White Leaguers will be apt to know of it.

THE friends of Governor Tilden in New York, are wise. They are defending him in advance against any possible assaults upon him as to his Presidential aspirations. The Tribune reads a lecture to the Republican party on the subject. It is kindly given permission to frustrate his ambition, provided harsh measures are not resorted to in doing it. He is, in fact to be fought with gloved hands. When we consider the generosity manifested toward President Grant, and the Republican party generally, by such parties, we feel compelled to acknowledge that we think they are just a trifle impudent.

A REMARK in our local columns, on Saturday, relative to the proposed public installation of Dr. Strong, as President of the Pennsylvania Female College, leads us to offer a suggestion on the subject. It is that every possible care be taken to give proper eclat to the occasion. It is not only deserving of publicity and elaborate preparation, but may be made to promote the welfare of the College more than can be done by any other method. When Dr. McCosh was installed as President of Princeton, the occasion was invested with every possible interest. The alumni of the College were present in force, Governors and dignitaries were present,—the addresses of welcome, and those attending the installation proper, were delivered by eminent gentlemen, while Dr. McCosh's address was specially elaborate. Reports of the proceedings were scattered broadcast, and the result was, a vast income to the College from various forms of bequest. We hope it will be made known that we have institutions of learning in Pittsburgh.

THERE is some vitality, after all, in the bill that passed Parliament, as the result of Plimsoll's bold and accusing speech. On the day the bill passed received royal assent, fifteen seamen were brought before a magistrate by a ship Captain for refusing to proceed to sea. An examination of the vessel was ordered, and this is the report: "The jibboom is rotten, the plank under the top rail by the port cathead is rotten, and the caulking bad; the bitts for the mainstays and maintopmast stays on the port side are completely gone, to the great danger of the mainmast. The deck-house for the crew is in a bad condition; the mizzenmast has been properly tongued, but not being wedged in, the partners are very unsafe; the caulking around the starboard bow is bad; the running rig is bad, and there is only a small quantity of spars and rope on board. The sails are old and require overhauling; the boats are badly found." The crew was discharged, and the vessel stopped from going to sea. The noticeable fact in this affair is, that the owner is an American, and the vessel American-built. Does not this show that we have need of Plimsoll laws in this country?

OUR OIL PRODUCTION.

We have received the special reports of the Second Geological Survey of this State. One is a preliminary report on the mineralogy of the State, and the other refers to the production, transportation, manufacture and statistics of petroleum in Pennsylvania. We gather from this some data, which, while it may not be entirely new to some of our readers, is at least interesting and worthy of occasional mention. The earliest mention of petroleum in this State was made by the commander of Fort Duquesne to General Montcalm, in 1750, and referred to a ceremony of the Seneca Indians, on Oil Creek, a prominent feature of which was a fire made from the oil which oozed to the surface of the ground. At Oil Creek, and between Titusville and Oil City, are circular, square and oval walled pits, from fifteen to twenty feet deep, cribbed with timber,—the work of a race of people who occupied the country prior to the advent of the Indian tribes. This proves that the knowledge of the existence and value of petroleum reaches back beyond any authentic history in use here.

For many years, naphtha was obtained by putting a blanket over the places where it exuded, and when it had absorbed the oil, it was wrung out,—the article thus obtained being sold at drug stores for rheumatism, burns, and the like. The first attempt to distil the oil in this country was made by the late Samuel Kier, Esq., of this city, in 1850, and the original apparatus will probably be placed on exhibition at our forthcoming Industrial Exposition. His success was limited to the small quantity he was then enabled to obtain, but means were soon employed to increase the quantity. The first artesian oil well was bored by E. L. Drake, of New Haven, for J. G. Eveleth and George H. Bissell, of New York, at Oil Creek. It was completed August 28, 1859, and yielded twenty-five barrels a day. This was the first step toward the development of a great industry. Wells were rapidly "put down," the result being a supply of oil, far in excess of the demand, and a falling off in price until it was sold at ten cents per barrel. The business was paralyzed for a time, but slowly recuperated, as the demand increased, until in 1864 the total production was 3,000 barrels a day, and the price fourteen dollars per barrel, maximum, and an average of over nine dollars for the year. This demand stimulated production; and under the stimulus thus inspired the Bennerhoff, Pioneer and Stevenson hills were developed in 1866; Tidioute and Triumph hills in 1867, and Pleasantville and Shamburg in 1868. Within the past year or two, however, the production has again outrun the demand, great as this has grown to be, and prices have been again reduced. The rapid growth of this industry may be realized when it is known that 3,200,000 barrels are now tanked, and about 36,000 barrels produced per day.

The value of this industry, to the State, if properly regulated, would be something enormous. Up to January 1, 1875, the entire production of oil is 67,707,000 barrels, which brought, at the wells, $235,500,000. Of this amount 3,200,000 barrels are stored in the oil regions. Of the yield, 32,590,971 barrels were exported, producing $113,950,153.26. The refining of this oil, at a cost of two dollars per barrel, on three-fourths the total amount, yields an additional value of over $100,000,000. The freight on 40,000,000 barrels to the seaboard at $2.50 per barrel would amount to $100,000,000. Thus the whole value received aboard from the export of oil will amount to over $260,000,000. These are gross results. There are other facts, however, which take away a portion of the roseate features of the picture. In the first place, the average life of wells is a little over two and a half years. Thus, the cost of 8,000 wells, may be put as follows: Drilling, $52,240,000; pumping, $58,400,000; territory, $12,640,000. Receipts, $235,475,120; profits, so far, $112,195,120. If "wild catting" were taken into account, this result would be reduced nearly one-half.

The table of production and average prices makes a further very interesting showing. Not to enter into particulars, it discloses a tolerably steady increase until 1873, when the production suddenly sprang from 6,539,103, in 1872, to 9,879,455,—an increase of about fifty per cent. The price had averaged, for a series of years, about four dollars per barrel; but this sudden increase cut it down to $1.84 per barrel,—to be followed, in 1874, by a further increase of over 1,000,000 barrels in production, and a further decline in prices. Thus the fact is made entirely evident that a sudden over-production broke the market, and well nigh ruined the trade. The facts and figures are so evident that the remedy cannot be mistaken. It is to reduce the production to the demand, and thus control the price. Could the product be reduced in volume to one-fourth, there would be more money realized than is now received from the advanced product. The 6,500,000 barrels of 1872 realized about $24,000,000, while the 11,000,000 barrels of 1874, at $1.17, realized about $12,500,000. No fact could be given which would more clearly prove the wisdom of adapting the production to the demand. If this fact can be more strikingly illustrated, we know not how. The importance of proper action to this end cannot be over-estimated.

The report also deals with pipe lines, and the relative cost of transporting oil through them, as compared with railroad lines. The cost of a working section of twenty miles of pipe is put at $65,000. To move 3,600 barrels per day, would require four men,—two engineers, and one man at each end of the line. The cost of an engine and train, sufficient to carry 3,600 barrels of oil, would exceed the cost of the entire pipe line, exclusive of the cost of roadway. This sufficiently illustrates the economical value of pipe lines.

The refining of petroleum is an interest that has grown up very recently, but is already large and important. There exists much misapprehension touching the danger attending the use of petroleum, the general idea being that heat will resolve it into a single gas, or vapor. All petroleum consists of an unknown number of distinct hydro-carbons, which a writer in Fowne's chemistry believes to include the paraffine, olefine, and a few members of the aromatic series. The number and members of each series, or the existence of intermediate series has never been accurately determined. At least thirty distinct hydro-carbons are known to exist in petroleum, separated by different degrees of heat, while others, yet unknown, undoubtedly exist. The refined oil of commerce is filled from both the lighter and heavier members of each series, and this is the object of refining. The products of refining are, 1. At eighty to seventy degrees density light naptha, or gasoline. 2. Benzine, from seventy to sixty-five degrees density. 3. Heavy benzine, at from sixty-five to sixty-two degrees. 4. Burning oil, from sixty-two to forty-three degrees. From seventy to seventy-two per cent. refined is obtained from the crude oil. The entire refining capacity of the country is given at 46,226 barrels a day,—which is much more than is needed.

These facts, briefly given, summarize the leading and important features of this report, which, while discursive in places, and not full and detailed as it should be, in portions, nevertheless is valuable. It illustrates clearly the importance of properly controlling and fostering the great interest, that should give wealth to our State. The refining interests of Pittsburgh, particularly, require more attention and aid than they have received. We fear that in some way, this business is either oppressed or mismanaged. We had hoped the pipe line would end the troubles of refiners, and enable them to build up a great interest. So far, however, favorable results are not apparent.

POLITICAL NOTES.

THE Democrats think it will not pay to contest Iowa.

THE Republican canvass progresses well in Wisconsin. The Democrats concede a victory.

THE Hon. John Lee Carroll, Democratic candidate for Governor of Maryland, is to make a personal canvass of the State.

THOSE numerous Allen clubs in Ohio must be in the nature of secret societies—they keep so quiet about it.—N. Y. Tribune.

MAINE votes on the 13th of next month. The campaign grows hot there and the indications are that a heavy vote will be polled.

NORTH CAROLINA will be the first State to hold an election in 1876, and she has just given a handsome Republican majority.

THE ticket "Bristow, of Kentucky, for President and Anthony, of Rhode Island, for Vice President" is, the Boston Journal remarks, geographically correct.

"WE need the means for organizing the Democratic party in this State," said a leading Pennsylvania politician. A Western man responded promptly by telegraph: "Will ship to-day one barrel whisky and one orator; invoice by mail."

THE candidates for United States Senator in Kentucky who now appear to have the inside track are Governor Leslie, James B. Beck, General John S. Williams, and Senator Stevenson, and their chances are reported to stand in about the order we have named them.

SENATOR D. M. KEY, Andrew Johnson's successor, was serenaded an evening or two since, and in the course of his speech acknowledging the compliment, said that though a Democrat, he was no partisan. He should regard himself not merely the representative of a section, but as bound to work for the best interests of the whole country.

WITH Jeff Davis invited to make a speech in Illinois, Ancient William Allen swinging around the circle in Ohio, and the rebel sympathizer Tilden making plans for a Presidential nomination, it is evident that the "old rebel yell" will soon be heard over the land if the Republicans don't stop fighting and go to business.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

A WASHINGTON correspondent says: "It is understood here among the friends of Senator Stevenson, of Kentucky, that he has the assurances of General Williams and Governor Leslie that, in the event that they cannot secure his election to the United States Senate, they will use their influence in favor of Stevenson as against Beck, who is an aspirant."

IN Baltimore a Citizens' party has been formed chiefly with reference to local affairs, but which, it is thought, may play a part in the State canvass. The principal planks in the platform are the preservation of the public schools, taxation of church property, official economy, opposition to sectarian appropriations and to the employment of convict labor by contractors.

THE Hon. William S. Groesbeck, who is one of the most prominent Democrats, not only of Ohio, but of the United States, being requested to speak in the Ohio canvass refuses. He is not that kind of a Democrat. He is "not in harmony" with the Democratic platform. Judge Ranney, too, another eminent Ohio Democrat, takes no part in the canvass. Don't take stock in Allen and Cary.

LATER advices give the North Carolina Constitutional Convention to the Republicans, who have sixty-one members, the death of ex-Governor William A. Graham reducing the number of Democrats to fifty-eight, with one county yet to be heard from. This virtually decides that there will be no Convention, as it has all along been a part of the Republican programme to adjourn the Convention as soon as it met, provided they gained control. The majority claimed for the Republican candidates on the popular ballot is 15,000, which is a large gain.

BRISTOL, Rhode Island, has been visited by four Presidents: Washington in 1793 Madison in 1814, Jackson in 1833 and Grant in 1875.

A CHILD answering to the description of Charlie Ross has been discovered at Schuyler's Falls, near Plattsburg. He is with a colored family.

THE remains of Commodore Morris, who recently died at Jordan Springs, were interred Thursday in Oak Hill Cemetery, in the District of Columbia.

AT the University of Charlottesburg, Va., Leo Napoleon Levi, of Victoria, Tex., the only Jew in the university, received the gold medal for eloquence, in a contest of eight students selected to represent the whole body.

GRIMWOOD's watch stopped at 11:20, at which hour he probably struck the water, not wholly without warning evidently, for he had closely buttoned his coat and divested himself of his boots, as though preparatory to a plunge.

EX-SENATOR E. G. ROSS, of Kansas, is now foreman of the Lawrence Journal composing room and in very reduced circumstances. He has written an account of the impeachment trial of Andrew Johnson for the Hannibal (Mo.) Clipper.

ALBERT D. BROWN, who enjoys the distinction of being sued for breach of promise (blighted hopes valued at $60,000!) by a young lady of Princeton, is a great chemist. He never expected to come across such a retort as this one, though.

THE Princess Orloff, wife of the Russian Ambassador in Paris, died at Saint Moritz, in Switzerland, on the 16th instant, at the early age of thirty-five. She was a Princess Troubetzkoi by birth, and married the son of the great favorite of Nicholas I., and the representative of Russia at the Congress of Paris.

COL. ANTHONY, under the careful nursing of his heroic sister, celebrated the 100th day since his wounding, by dressing himself and taking a walk. Hitherto the dressing has all been applied to his wound. It takes two relays of two persons to compress the subclavian artery for the reduction of the tumor.

IT IS said that orders have been given by Mr. William Butler Duncan to go on with the building of his new and magnificent seaside house at Newport, and that there is no probability that his family will suffer in the least from poverty. It is the creditors, not the members of the bankrupt firm of Duncan, Sherman & Co., who are suffering from a lack of funds.

MARTIN FOISEMOLLE, suppositiously the original of Hugo's Jean Valjean, has just died at Ternes, Department of Seine-et-Oise, France. He was sent to the galleys in 1842 for killing a priest under provocation; was pardoned in 1852 for his devotion during a cholora epidemic; made a fortune as a doctor and became the good angel of the poor in his neighborhood.

PROFESSOR LOOMIS, of Yale College, has been visiting the families bearing his name at Oneida, New York, for the purpose of perfecting his genealogy of the Loomis family, of which he has now a published list. All of its members descended from one man, who emigrated to this country from England about three hundred years ago. The list contains nine thousand names.

THE firm of Hoyt, Sprague & Co., of Providence and New York, which failed about two years ago, will not be able to pay over 15 or 20 cents on the dollar. This house was believed to be very strong, as was that of Duncan, Sherman & Co., and the creditors of the latter firm may read their fate in that of those who have been waiting and hoping so long to get their dues from the great Rhode Island concern.

THE Brooklyn Argus says the important problem, as to Bessie Turner's age, that has agitated the country so long is solved by the confession of Bessie herself. She says that she is thirty-three. Therefore, at the time of her unconscious midnight transit, she must have been a blooming school-girl of about twenty-nine Summers. She is younger than Kate Field, and can be but very little the senior of Anna Dickinson.

THE will of the late Rev. John S. Clarke, who lived and died as a poor man at Ashland, near Catskill, N. Y., but who was found to have bequeathed $100,000 to various church associations in England and Canada, has been contested by the relatives. The Probate Judge of Greene county decided that the will was illegal and void, and since the decision was given a woman has appeared who claims that she is the widow of the deceased man.

EX-GOVERNOR WELLER, of California, whose death is just reported, was a native of Ohio and sat in Congress from that State for the six years from 1839 to 1845. At the close of the Mexican war he was sent to Mexico as Minister. Going thence to California he was elected United States Senator in 1851, and, at the expiration of his term, Governor. In 1860 Buchanan again sent him to Mexico. His last appearance in politics was in 1864, when he was a delegate to the McClellan convention.

AMONG the assets of Duncan, Sherman & Co., are some hundreds of shares in the Yuba Dam Canal. From the frequency with which the canal has been named to the bankrupts, one might think they had shares in nothing else.

THE negro scare in Georgia appears to have been gotten up for political effect. So far no conclusive proof of an intention to massacre has been found, and in all probability no such thing ever existed.

THE gamblers of Blanco City, Tex., have issued a circular warning the fraternity against "Arkansas Bill," who, adopting the dress and manner of a greenhorn, does not scruple to rob even his fellow-thieves.

SOME fleeces of wool clipped in Jefferson county, Texas, this year, weighed as high as thirty-two pounds eight ounce, twenty-nine, twenty-seven, twenty-five, twenty-three, twenty and eighteen pounds each, and the wool is said to be "fine, almost silky."

THE Penikese Island school, or the Anderson School of Natural History, founded by the late Professor Louis Agassiz, has been abandoned by the trustees, and the school furniture, instruments, &c., are to be sent to Boston within a fortnight, where they will be sold at auction.

THE corner-stone of the old Masonic hall at Halifax, which was laid by Queen victoria's father, in 1800, has been exhumed, with the inscription in a fair state of preservation. It will be built into the wall of the new temple, whose corner-stone is to be laid on the 31st inst.

AMONG the curiosities of the Winthrop Bank robbery was the condition in which a package of promissory notes that had been discounted by the bank was left, one end being cut off by one of the explosions as neatly as if done with a cutting machine, but both ends were found, and the notes remain as good as new.

A HUNTER named Brughman, living near Melrose, Minn., was taken ill, probably a month since, while in a lonely shanty, into which he had locked himself at night with his two dogs. Whether he died first or the animals, maddened by hunger, killed him, cannot be determined, but when his body was found last week but little more than the skeleton remained.

DURING the season ending August 1, 1875, 113,970 barrels of 31,000,000 menhaden fish were taken on the Connecticut shore, from which 3,100 tons guano and 93,000 gallons of oil were made. The guano brings from $10 to $12 per ton and the oil from 34 to 38 cents a gallon. The Connecticut shore furnishes about one-fifth of the supply from the New England and Long Island district.

IT IS suggested by the Chicago Tribune that Grimwood, the reporter who made the ascent with Donaldson, either fell out of the balloon into the lake, leaped out after they had cast lots to see which should be sacrificed to save the other, or was thrown out by his athletic companion. It adds that some believe Donaldson is still alive, but hesitates to show himself on account of Grimwood's death, which last is hardly probable.

THE Indians at some of the upper agencies are already dissatisfied. The prospect is that some of the tribes will not send delegations to the Red Cloud Council at Standing Rock. They are very decided since the commissioners left there. It has been unanimously resolved by the Indians not to dispose of their rights in the Black Hills country, nor have anything to do with the making of a new treaty with the Government.

THE physicians of Hungary have agreed to use the metric system after January 1st of next year, and to have prescriptions written out in full in the language of the common people. This would be a very popular reform in this country. People would then know what has been prescribed for them, and the quantities. If a man has any one right it is to know what he is to put in his own stomach; but the use of dog Latin by the doctors deprives him of that important information in most cases.

THE Baker case is producing some very curious results in England. A man, who describes himself as "a middle aged and respectable man," writes to the Times that he found himself alone in a railway carriage with two ladies the other day, and that when one of them got out the other looked at him with such an appearance of alarm that he feared she would go into hysterics. Thereupon he also was scared, and endeavored to call on the guard to relieve the situation. He protests against the idiotic practice of placing people in such situations, and demands that saloon cars shall be used.

JOURNALISTIC.

STATISTICS show that the net profit on the whole capital invested in newspapers in the United States does not equal 1½ per cent. per annum.

THE Toronto Leader replies to an article in the Port Hope Guide under the heading: "A Snarl from a Country Puppy." The Guide retorts in one entitled: "A Squirt from a City Toad."

AT a newspaper office in Australia there was at one time a tablet informing visitors that the editor could only be spoken to during business hours, by purchasing tickets of admission at the door. The price was ten shillings for half an hour's talk.

A PATENT OUTSIDE country paper comes to us without a line of original matter, except an acknowledgment of a string of fish from a neighbor. The editor evidently takes warning from the fate of Robert Dale Owen's overtaxed brain.—American Journalist.

A MAN out in Colorado presented an editor in Kentucky a spoon made by the Indians out of a ram's horn, the bowl holding over a pint, and the handle being nearly two feet long. The editor was happy until his envious cotemporaries began to quote at him the old Scotch proverb, "He must have a long spoon that sups kail with the devil."

HENRY WARD BEECHER's paper, the Christian Union, has passed from the hands of J. B. Ford & Co., as publishers, and Henry M. Cleveland has become the manager. Messrs. Ford & Co., in taking leave of the paper, state in an article, that in 1862 the circulation had reached 132,000. The present circulation is much less than this, but the exact figures are not given and are not generally known.

FACETIÆ.

SOMETHING that will soon be leaving us—the leaves.

BAKERS are a crusty lot of fellows, and fond of loafing.

CARPENTERS are given to vice—they do so much chiseling.

ALL honest men will bear watching. It is the rascals who cannot stand it.

THE only men who don't get out of patients in warm weather—the doctors.

OUGHT a baker to be considered a needy loafer because he is frequently seen kneading a loaf?

"I have bought my first last," was the remark of a cobbler when he set up business for himself.

BEST rhyme of the season: "'Tis sweet to wait; but O how bitter, To wait for a girl, and then not git 'er!"

A VILLAGE pedagogue, in despair with a stupid boy, pointed to the letter A and asked him if he knew it. "Yes' sir." "Well, what is it?" "I know him very well by sight, sir—but rat me if I can remember his name."

THIS occurred in Butler county the other day. "Will you do it? she said, twisting one end of the strap around her hand and fetching him a "stinger" across the shoulders with the other. He squirmed and looked frantically at the keyhole of the door, as if he could crawl through it. "Will you do it?" she said, aiming two or three at the calves of his legs, while he skipped around like a great Northwestern grasshopper with the jim-jams. "Will you do it?" she repeated, concentrating her energies for a terrific swoop, and dealing him a blinder over the eyebrows that made the cold perspiration start out of every pore in his body. "I will!" he roared in agony; and they were married.

Petroleum Exports.

The exports of petroleum for Europe from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore during the week ending August 16, 1875, amounted in crude equivalent to 166,244 barrels. The amount of charters at that date was 502,543 barrels. The exports this year for Europe up to August 16, from the three ports, were in crude equivalent 3,868,279 barrels, against 4,427,534 barrels same time last year. These figures, let it be understood, cover only the exports for Europe which go in complete cargoes.—Titusville Courier.

THE MENNONITES.

Their Religious Belief and How Their Preachers are Chosen.

The Mennonites are a sect little known beyond the few places where they are found. They derive their name from Menno Symons, a contemporary of Luther, under whose guidance they were organized and indoctrinated. In some respects they are like the Baptists, in others like the Quakers, in still others only like themselves. They are opposed to war, and consistently refuse military service, or to hold civil office. They decline to take oaths, in obedience to their interpretation of the Christian precept, "Swear not at all." They hold it sinful to receive or pay a salary for preaching, and their preachers are chosen by lot. The process is described by a correspondent of the Christian Observer. In Rockingham county, Va., the sect lately determined to ordain two new preachers. In the first place, nominations were received in different parts of the district for candidates. Whoever received one vote or more was "put into the lot.' Twelve candidates were thus designated. A day was set apart for "casting the lot." Twelve copies of the New Testament were put into the hands of a party and carried into an adjoining room. A slip of paper was put into two of the copies. The Testaments were left in the room, and the party came back into the church, whereupon another party went for the Testaments, shuffled them, and then carried them into the church, and laid them upon the pulpit. The candidates then drew, and the two persons who found the slip of paper in their books were ordained on the spot as ministers, fully fledged and authorized to preach, and bear rule in the house of God. God is held responsible for the character of their preaching, and the faithful are content to receive it from their ministers as God "chooses to give it to them." If there is something of superstition in this, so doubtless is there sincere piety and godly trust. The correspondent of the Christian Observer says the ministers thus chosen "can draw crowds that your seminary and college preachers cannot begin to rival. The seminary preacher is looked upon as a man-made preacher, while the prayerfully raffled preacher is received as the God-made messenger of the Gospel, entitled to preference to all others, whatever their talents and piety may be. The thing is remarkable, the lot never falls on any except such as have a good farm, or are making a good living by a thriving trade. There is no change apparent in their relations to the world and business. They toil from Monday morning to Saturday night, at the avocation in which they were found when called to the work of the ministry. On the Sabbath, they rise before immense throngs of devout people, and solemnly tell them that now they are going to hand over the truth just as they get it from the Holy Spirit, and 'they feel to say' thus and so."

"A Noble Roman Matron."

To the best of our recollection, he was an Arkansas clergyman who had been accused of trailing his "true inwardness" in the company of the wrong woman. Under these painful circumstances his wife was frequently compared to a "noble Roman matron;" but she didn't seem to mind it, firmly declared her belief in her husband's innocence. When the day of the trial arrived she sat in Court beside him, and moved the jury to tears by arranging a 50-cent bouquet in the button-hole of his coat. The case was at last opened, and the witnesses for the prosecution called. There were thirty or forty of them; but before half a dozen had testified, a mighty change came over the face of the wife, and, getting up and advancing her remarks to the Bench, she said:

"See here, Judge; I'm satisfied, if you are. Don't mind me; I can stand it. I reckon it's into me, Judge, to get even. Just hold on to him till called for, and if enny woman wants him, he's hern, and no questions asked." Then turning to her husband and snatching the floral tokens from his button-hole, she bitterly exclaimed:

"Remember, from this time forrard my home's a den of ragin' lions, and you ain't no Daniel."—Brooklyn Argus.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 23, 1875.

The week closed with rather a better feeling in financial circles than had existed for a time previously, although a small failure Saturday of a builder indicates the uncertain and tottering character of the standing of those who are working with small margins of capital. It is a time when the utmost prudence should be exercised by those who make contracts, or do any kind of business, and yet we hear of singularly imprudent measures being taken. The banks have ample funds, but are very careful in loaning them. The situation is simply this: As soon as confidence in the stability of business men is once fully restored, the banks will loan and business become brisk. Until that time, affairs must remain as they are.

The sales of goods to country merchants are improving a little, but all the bills bought are small. The jobbers of groceries and dry goods complain of unsatisfactory collections in the country, and the grocers especially are borrowing more of their bankers than usual. It seems strange that there should be complaints of unsatisfactory collections in the country, when it is well known that immense amounts have been paid out in the last few months all over the West for products sold at high prices. The country banks also are full of money, and this money must belong to country merchants. But perhaps these complaints of unsatisfactory collections are only the chronic way of talking about the dull times.

Apropos, of the Duncan, Sherman & Co. failure, a western paper says, there were plenty of men who were shrewd enough to foresee that after the panic it would be a long time before their trade or their particular business would be good again, so they quietly turned as much into ready cash as possible and stuck it in their pockets, and in the course of a few months declared they were "ruined by the panic," and having picked the flesh of the carcass generously turned the bones over to their creditors by going into bankruptcy. In many such cases this change of front was made suddenly after they had talked boldly and confidently for months about the "folly of being frightened by the panic," this being done to allay any distrust until they had got the last cent of ready money possible out of their affairs. There is probably not a business man who will read this who can not think of one or more such cases, and knows that when he sees these men walking the streets that they have money stowed away somewhere, which they will bring out from its hiding places, and go into business again when their creditors have all been settled at 15 or 20 cents on the dollar. It is this kind of experience that is beginning to arouse a strong feeling against the bankrupt law, as the means of enabling rogues to escape their debts and come to the surface again with bold and shameless faces, under sanction of the law. The fact is, the bankrupt law is but little, if any, protection for the merchant or trader. If he gets into difficulty, and meets with unexpected and unavoidable losses, a fair and honest statement to his creditors would, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, secure him a compromise by the payment of only a portion of his entire capital. If his course has been honest they would, in nearly all cases, leave him something to go on with, whereas in bankruptcy he pretends to give them all. If he does so it could be no worse with him if he gave them all without going into bankruptcy. The claim that the bankrupt law is a protection for creditors only holds good so far as it prevents the debtors from making preferred creditors of one or two friends in order to swindle the rest, but this can be prevented as well without the bankrupt law as with it. There is, in fact, but one honest method of dealing with debts, and that is to pay them, or compromise them, or else rest under the burden of them until any unreasonable creditors are willing to compromise.

NEW YORK, August 21, 1875.

Gold opened at 113½, declined to 113⅜, and closed at 113⅜. The rates paid for borrowing were 2, 1, 1½, and 1-64 per cent. Loans were also made flat, and at 1 and 2 per cent. for carrying. The following is the bank statement:

Loans, decrease	$ 580,700
Specie, decrease	1,036,400
Legal tenders, decrease	1,856,400
Circulation, decrease	178,200
Reserve, decrease	927,800

Governments closed dull and steady. In railroad bonds, this afternoon, Chicago & Northwestern consolidated coupon gold bonds were in demand, and sold at 88, with none offering below 88½ at the close. Union Pacific sinking funds sold at 96½, and closed at 96⅞ to 97. State bonds were quiet and prices nominal. The stock market was slightly lower on early dealings, but become firm towards midday, and prices advanced ¼ to ⅜ per cent. in the general list. At the second call the market was firm, and towards the close strong at the highest point of the day, and, in fact, in some cases the best prices of the week were made in final dealings. Northwest, St. Paul, Pacific Mail and Western Union were noticeably firm. Rock Island, after advancing to 108⅜, receded to 180. Northwestern common sold up to 42⅞, preferred to 58⅞, St. Paul to 38⅜, preferred to 64⅞, Pacific Mail to 39, and Western Union to 84⅞. The market closed dull and steady. Wool.

BOSTON, August 21.—There are no material changes since last week. The demand for fleeces is almost exclusively for medium, delaine and combing. Fine fleeces are neglected. Good and choice XX fleeces are held at 46a47c. Sales could not be made at over 45a46c, and buyers are indifferent at these figures. Medium Ohio fleeces have been in demand, but prices ruled in favor of buyers. Good lots of medium Ohio sold at 47a48c, and selections at 49a50c. Sales of Michigan fleeces, 126,000 lbs., at 44a47c for X and very choice medium. The condition of new Michigan wool is very good, but Ohio wool is not equal to last year; X Michigan (43a44)½c; medium 45a46c. The demand for combing and delaine fleeces is fully equal to the supply, and all lots offered are taken at current rates. The sales of the week have been 224,000 lbs. at 50@61½c for washed, and 40@49c for unwashed. The latter price was obtained for very choice and light Indiana. The only sale of Kentucky combing was 10,000 lbs at 45c. There is a very firm feeling for all kinds of combing, but no improvement in prices. The sales of pulled wool continue quite moderate, only 72,000 lbs for the week, supers selling principally at 44@48c, with an occasional sale of good eastern at 50c.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, Aug. 21, 1875.

There is nothing specially new or important to report in commercial circles; business continues quiet, although we look for an improvement from this on. Recent advices from other points, particularly in the west, are more encouraging. A Chicago exchange says:—The recent numerous failures in the eastern cities have unsettled confidence there, but the fact, now generally acknowledged, that the West, and especially the Northwest, has been growing rich all this last two years, notwithstanding the general depression in trade and industry, is preparing the way for the revival of confidence in business activity in the west, and when it comes there will be plenty of money to be had at low rates of interest.

BEANS—Occasional small sales of prime mediums at $2,10a2,15 per bushel.

BUTTER—The market continues fairly active, although some dealers report that the demand is falling off or the receipts increasing, most likely the latter. We continue to quote prime to choice solid packed at 23a25.

CHEESE—The receipts for some weeks past have been comparatively light, but the supply is ample for present requirements; prices unchanged; prime Ohio Factory, 11a11½ in job lots.

EGGS—The inquiry continues very light, but with light receipts and a reduced supply, prices are maintained, 14a15.

FRUITS—The receipts of Peaches have dropped off considerably within the past few days, and the market is firmer in consequence; $1a1,50 per box for fair to prime. The quality is improving, and, taking this into consideration, prices are no higher. Apples steady at $3a4 per bbl. Blackberries and Whortle Berries, $1,25a1,50 per pail Water Melons, 10a20c each, according to quality, size and condition.

FLOUR—The market continues quiet, and while the feeling is scarcely as strong as it has been, prices have undergone no change whatever. We continue to quote, in a jobbing way, at $7,25a7,50 for fair to choice brands of winter and spring. Rye Flour, $6,25a6,25.

GROCERIES—There was a fair degree of activity in the grocery trade, but the markets were devoid of anything especially important, or to which reference has not previously been made. Both Sugars and Coffees are still reported firm. Stock of Coffee in first hands, in New York, Aug. 19, 59,611 bags; at Baltimore, 20,529 bags; at Hampton Roads, 11,066 bags; at New Orleans, 5,686 bags; afloat for New York, 56,200 bags; other ports in the United States, 79,800 bags; total 136,000 bags; total stock and supplies for all ports of the United States, 232,892 bags. We have Messrs. Wright & Co.'s Telegram, dated Rio, Aug. 18, 1875, advising: Sales since 11th inst., 7,600 bags; shipments, 36,000 bags; loading, 62,000 bags; stock at date, 75,000 bags; average daily receipts; 10,300 bags; price; 9-900; exchange, 27¼d.

GRAIN—The receipts of Wheat continue meagre, but there does not appear to be much inquiry, for which there are several reasons; one is that there is no margin in flour, and another, an expectation of an early decline. We continue to quote at $1,50a1,55 for red winter, and 5a7c additional for amber and white. The receipts of Oats have been quite liberal within the past couple of days, and prices are lower in consequence; new quotable for immediate delivery on track, at 48a55c, according to quality and condition. Old Oats also lower and a further decline is anticipated. There is some little inquiry for Ear Corn, and as the supply is very small, prices are still maintained; 83a85; on track. Shelled Corn is also in light supply, but there is no call for it; 80a82 on track. Nothing doing in Rye.

HAY—Is coming in more freely, and the market is easier; new Baled quoted at $20a23, and old at $24a25.

POTATOES—Continue very dull, and prices are lower; quotable at 70a75c per bushel; sweets, $4,50a5,50 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—There is a continued fair degree of activity, but no change to note in prices, which have been very well sustained for some time past.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, August 21, 1875.

Trade in this important article continues dull, and, so far as Pittsburgh is concerned, very unsatisfactory; there are various causes assigned for the depression which has characterized the trade all this year, but the chief one is over-production, both of the raw article as well as the product. Taking current rates as a basis, refiners cannot realize actual cost of manufacture, and, as a consequence, while some works have been stopped altogether, but few if any of them are working up to their full capacity. Our refiners would be satisfied with a very small profit; we heard one remark the other day that he would keep his works in operation if he could only realize a margin of ten cents per bbl., but it is claimed that there is actual loss at quoted rates, and unless there is a very decided change for the better in the meantime, a general suspension before long appears almost inevitable. From all that we can learn, there is reason to believe that Cleveland and other competing points are not much better off than Pittsburgh; while they may have some advantages not possessed by Pittsburgh, refiners here have advantages that will offset those enjoyed by other points. Producers of the raw article, as a rule, are doing no better than the refiners, as those having small wells cannot more than make expenses, and notwithstanding development has been brought almost to a halt, the production is slowly but steadily increasing. The only favorable indication for the producer is that there is more oil being shipped out of the producing country than is being produced, and for some time past the stock has been going down, but very slowly, scarcely enough to make any impression. The great trouble in this branch of business is over-supply, both of the raw article and the product, and no decided improvement in prices can reasonably be looked for while this continues.

CRUDE.

The regular press dispatches quoted immediate shipment at Parker, at $1,10 per bbl, yet we were assured by brokers that it could not be purchased under $1,15, which indicates a firmer feeling, as we are cognizant of an offer to sell 1,000 barrels yesterday at 1,12 1-2. Our refiners generally are buying sparingly.

REFINED.

Trade has been very quiet all week, with but little fluctuation in prices; 11a11⅜c delivered in either Philadelphia or Baltimore, equal to 8⅜a8¾ on cars here.

OIL BARRELS.

The Barrel trade remains unchanged; countries, $1,15a1,25; city's, $1,35a1,40.

Chicago Lumber Market.

The wholesale market was again dull and weak under heavy receipts. Only a few buyers were present, and they were not disposed to take hold very freely, even when the lumber was offered at lower prices. The trading was chiefly in inch stuff, prices for which were probably shaded about 25 cents per m feet. The offerings of piece stuff were unusually large, and very little was sold, as buyers refused to pay the price asked, and sellers declined to accept the bids, and carried most of the stock over. Sales were made at $8,50 for standard cargoes. Lath were steady at $1,50. Inch-stuff sold at $9a11,37½, and choice mill run was quoted at $12a13,50, and coarse inch at $8a$9,00.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, August 21, 1875.

CATTLE.

The market has been very quiet since the date of our last report, 19th inst., but it is not unusually so, as there are but very few buyers after Thursday, and the great proportion of the receipts during the latter part of the week are through consignments. The market for the week, however, was a very unsatisfactory one for owners, especially of common stock, of which the offerings largely consisted, and prices ruled considerably lower; salesmen generally reported a decline of from a ¼ to ⅜ of a cent per pound on the lower grades, and it also appeared to be conceded that even for prime beeves, the supply of which was small, the market was draggy and a shade lower.

Seven cents is now regarded as the ruling price for prime graded steers, averaging 1,400a1,500, and no very considerable number could have been sold at the figure in question. It is said that butchers can scarcely cut the cost of the bullock out of the beef, and when trade is unsatisfactory and unremunerative for the butcher it has a similar effect upon the drover, as the two interests are so closely connected that the one must, of necessity, be affected by the other. The offerings were quite large, and but for the fact that there was a large number of country buyers, the market would, without much doubt, have been worse than it was.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The run was remarkably light, but little over one-half that of last week, and hence, notwithstanding the unfavorable character of the New York advices, an advance of 20 to 25c per cwt was established, and even at the advance the supply of good stock was unequal to the demand; not only was the run light, but the offerings, as a rule, were common in point of quality, and while good fat sheep sold readily at the advance quoted, the lower grades did not bring much more than last week. Stock Ewes continue dull, as the demand does not appear to have fairly set in yet. Lambs were a shade better especially the finer grades, although the demand was only fair. The outlook is not regarded as very favorable for the coming week, particularly if the run should be at all liberal, in consequence of the unfavorable reports from New York; it is worthy of notice that prices were almost as high here this week as in New York, and it follows that there must be a change at one end or the other, must decline here or advance there. If the run should be light and the supply not more than sufficient to meet the wants of the Philadelphia buyers, prices may be sustained, but not otherwise, unless there is an improvement in New York.

QUOTATIONS.

Extra 95a100 lbs	5,25a5,50

HOGS.

The receipts of hogs have also been light, but with a diminished demand, the market here ruled dull all week, and notwithstanding the very limited offerings, prices have been weak, and, as compared with the early part of the week, a shade lower. Shippers to all the eastern markets complain that, in addition to trade being very unsatisfactory in their respective markets, there is little or no margin for profit, that the butchers are doing no good, hence they are not buying much over one-half the number of hogs they usually buy at this season of the year. Philadelphia hogs quoted dull at 8,40a8,60. Yorkers at 7,80a8, according to quality.

Foreign.

LONDON, August 21.—The Times, in its commercial column, says; The grain market is inactive, but previous prices are obtained for wheat. It seems to be the opinion that the prices of wheat will be well maintained this season. This has sustained the market, in spite of heavy arrivals of foreign wheat. British wheat so far brought to market has not been of good quality. There is not much that is new to report about the condition of trade abroad. The harvests will generally be three per cent. below a fine yield, but with old stocks to draw on, there can be nothing approaching a scarcity, and a moderate advance on last season's prices is likely to secure us an abundance. The improved feeling recently manifested in the sugar market has subsided, and several parcels have been withdrawn from public sales on account of reduced offers. Tallow 43s 3da43s 6d.

THE stage of water last evening was four feet eight inches, and falling, a decline of 9 inches during the 24 hours ending at that time. Cloudy and pleasant, with indications at times favorable for rain.

IRONTON now has three wharfboats.

COM. KOUNTZ was still in St. Louis at last accounts.

THE wharf privileges at Augusta, Ky., are offered for sale.

PACKETS coal at Hanging Rock, owing to the strike among the miners at Coalton, Ky.

CAPT. THOS. CALHOUN, of the Glencoe, who was on a visit here, has returned to St. Louis.

CAPT. R. C. GRAY is back again from Cape May, where he spent a couple of weeks summering.

J. O. HAYNES, second clerk of the Chas. Morgan, has quit the boat, and goes into business in Owensboro, Ky.

THE fine packet steamer Exchange, Capt. Sam. Shuman, is announced to take her departure for Cincinnati to-morrow.

THE Rosa Miller was made the recipient of a very handsome Bible by the Young Mens' Bible Society of Cincinnati.

THE hull of a new towboat being built by James Rees for the Tombigbee River trade, arrived from the boat yard on Saturday evening.

THE United States Light-house tender steamer Lilly has been laid up at Keokuk, as the water is too low for her to cross the lower rapids.

THE following boats were at the foot of the canal on Friday evening, waiting to get through:—City of Augusta, Simpson Horner, Wild Duck and tow, N. J. Bigley and Smoky City.

THE Salt Valley, Capt. Sanford, is the regular packet for Ironton to-day, and she will receipt through to Cincinnati. Passengers and shippers will bear in mind that she leaves promptly on time.

THE John L. Rhoads and Wild Duck are en route from St. Louis. Capt. I. R. Whittaker telegraphed from St. Louis, on Saturday, that the Fearless would leave there to-morrow or Wednesday, with five barges of ore.

THERE are about 100 men employed in making improvements on the Tennessee at Soddy, Caney and Seven Island shoals. The hands are all employed by the Government, and receive 15c per day and board for dry work, and a dollar a day and board for work in the water.

THE Fannie Tatum took her departure for St. Louis on Saturday night, with a good freight list and all the passengers she could accommodate. She also had engagements below, including a large lot of nails at Wheeling. Messrs. Oaks and Pollard are her pilots to Cincinnati.

THE Local Inspector of steam vessels at Nashville, Messrs. Jones and Harrison, have been directed by telegraph to "make a thorough investigation without delay" into the cause of the explosion of the boiler of the steamer Hugh Martin, and left Nashville yesterday for the scene of the disaster.

THE Falls Pilot, which sunk on Cottonwood Bar, Wednesday evening, belonged to the St. Bernard Coal Co., of Henderson, Ky., and was partially insured in Cincinnati. She was built by Capt. Pink Varble, and sold to the above company some time ago, who used her for towing coal from its mines up Tennessee River.

FOLLOWING named towboats were in port last evening: John F. Dravo, Whale, James Jackson, Sam Miller, Evan Williams, Park Painter, J. H. Bigley, Panther, My Choice, Grand Lake, Fred. Wilson No. 2, Eagle, Coal Valley, Sam. Brown, Tom Dodsworth, Lion, Samuel Clarke, Boaz, Maggie Smith, Diamond, Baltic, Hercules, Tigress No. 2, Charley McDonald, Stella, Nellie Speer, Hornet No. 2, Tom Rees, James Gilmore, I. N. Phillips, Rover and Iron Mountain.

A MEMPHIS paper furnishes the following particulars in regard to the Dick Fulton, to which reference has already been made in the GAZETTE:—The towboat Dick Fulton, destined for Memphis, Arkansas City, and Natchez with a coal fleet, broke her shaft just above Paducah a few days since, and after drifting in a helpless condition for some hours was caught by the towboat Alice Brown, which aided her to land. The Smoky City, now below here, will be likely to go up and tow the fleet south.

A ST. LOUIS dispatch, under date of Friday, says:—A petition was circulated on 'Change to-day and very numerously signed, requesting Com. J. A. Scudder to run his Vicksburg boats through to New Orleans. The reason set forth by the merchants for making this request is that the present system of loading boats at two or three wharf-boats at a time so divides up the business that it often requires eight or ten days for a boat to get a trip, thus doing away with all dispatch or punctuality in business. Com. Scudder has not yet expressed himself on the measure, but will in due time.

SATURDAY'S St. Louis Globe-Democrat says:—As the freight business on the Upper Missouri becomes less profitable, new boats become more numerous. We learn of a quarter of a dozen which are to be built for the upper river during the coming winter. It is said that Commodore Kountz will have a brace of new ones, and that Dr. Burleigh or somebody else is to have one ready for next season's business. Captain Grant Marsh is to have a new boat also, but his craft will not run on the old Muddy. He will take a new departure and construct a steamer for the purpose of plying on the waters of the Yellowstone, to a point within a hundred miles, or a little more, of Bozeman. This little craft is expected to trim in about eight inches of water.

SUNDAY'S Cincinnati Commercial says: The Ashland, from Pittsburgh, arrived with a good trip, reshipping her Louisville freight on the mail boats, and 150 tons for New Orleans on the C. B. Church. The Ashland will commence loading, and return to Pittsburgh on Tuesday.... The C. B. Church departed for New Orleans, drawing 6½ feet, having received 135 tons from the Ashland from Pittsburgh.... Junk thieves are doing a lively business along the Ohio, stealing ropes and lines off of flat-boats. On Wednesday night they made a raid in the vicinity of Foster and cut three good lines on a coal barge belonging to the City of Portsmouth, and also on a lumber boat lying at Foster, and took all the lines from the ferry flat at Neville.... The Pomeroy Coal Company have reduced the price of coal to steamboats at Pomeroy to five cents per bushel.... The steamer Hugh Martin, which blew up 65 miles above Chattanooga, last Saturday afternoon, was in the act of backing away from the Washington landing at the time of the disaster. The boat sunk with a cargo of 400 sacks corn, 600 sacks wheat and 150 barrels flour. She was chiefly owned by Jacob Fritz, her master, who was killed, and who leaves a wife and child.... Pilot George Keating leaves for St. Louis, on the Utah, to look at the river. On his arrival at St. Louis he goes on the Susie Silver.... Mr. J. R. Hunter, of Pittsburgh, is in the city, spending a few days with old friends. .... A telegram announces the sinking of the Diamond Jo, on the Upper Mississippi, near Keithsburg, in 8 feet of water.

NEWS.

...te for the Summer.

...aving the city for the summer ... the Daily GAZETTE sent to them ...ail, by leaving their orders at the ...unting-room.

Injured the Fire Alarm Telegraph.

A German brewery wagon driver, on Saturday night, broke down a telegraph pole on the South Side by driving against it. The police and fire alarm telegraph lines were interrupted for twenty hours by the accident.

Runaway.

A horse attached to a buggy containing a lady and gentleman ran off on Penn avenue, at East Liberty, yesterday afternoon, but before much damage was done the horse was stopped. The driver and his companion were greatly frightened, however.

Aquatic.

Morris and Coulter met at Henderson's saloon, in the Diamond, on Saturday night, when the second installment of $200 a side was put up. The money was put into Henderson's hands, to be held for Mr. Liddell, who has been chosen as the stakeholder. The last installment will be paid in two weeks.

Off the Track.

Yesterday morning shifting engine No. 787 of the Fort Wayne road was thrown from the track, together with a couple of freight cars, at the curve east of Anderson street, Allegheny. Samuel Garrow, an employe, had an ankle broken. The cars were not materially damaged. The accident was caused by a broken rail.

Run Over.

On Saturday evening, about eight o'clock, as Mr. Peter Miller was passing up Federal street, Allegheny, at the corner of Montgomery avenue, he was knocked down and run over by Lutz's butcher wagon. The vehicle passed over both legs, and injured him severely. He was also bruised about the face and head. He was taken to his home in the Second ward, and received medical attention. The driver of the wagon was arrested, and will have a hearing this evening. The victim is a carpenter, in the employ of Mr. Bungey.

The "Critic."

The Critic—a new journalistic Sunday venture—made its appearance yesterday, and was very favorably received. It is a quarto, and in its typography and make-up is a very pretty newspaper. Its columns yesterday were well filled with local, telegraphic and general news, and every department gave evidence of care and industry in editing. It is announced as an independent paper in politics—the aim being to provide a journal that can be read with pleasure and profit by all classes. The initial number makes a fine appearance, and gives evidence that the Critic is in experienced hands.

A Heartless Husband.

Mrs. Hanna Maria Blood made information before Mayor McCarthy, on Saturday, morning against her husband, John Blood, for desertion. The story told was a very pitiful one. She states that Blood had left her last December, leaving her with a sick baby, and without food or means, and that she had not seen him from that time. She further stated that he had beaten her black and blue on several occasions, and that she had discovered he had another wife living. She wanted him punished, but wanted nothing more to do with him. Blood was arrested at Clark's mill, at the foot of Thirty-fifth street. He made no denial, and in default of bail was committed for trial.

A Veto.

Mayor Phillips, it seems, has vetoed the ordinance appropriating nearly $9,000 for the improvement of Fairmount and Henderson streets. It seems he has examined the legal authorities, and in an exhaustive document he reviews the matter, and concludes that as the ordinance of 1868 for the grading and paving of Anderson street was complied with, and the bills paid, and that a subsequent enactment, that of May, 1874, cut off a portion of that thoroughfare, and named it Fairmount street, and under the new name the work was done, he does not consider it legal to assess the same property twice (section 6, street laws of 1870); therefore the last ordinance improving Fairmount street. The bill will now have to be paid by the city.

Thirty-Fifth Street Grading.

Martin Howley wants the work in the grading of Thirty-fifth street stopped until he is secured against all damages. He filed a bill in equity against the city and Francis Armstrong, the contractor, on Saturday, in which it was set forth that the complainant owns property on the corner of Layfayett alley and Thirty-fifth street, Lawrenceville, and the contractor is now engaged in building an embankment at the intersection of the alley and the street, which will render the alley impassable, and the plaintiff asked for an injunction restraining the defendant from embanking up the alley or proceeding with the grading and paving of Thirty-fifth street until he has secured the plaintiff against damage. The preliminary injunction was granted as prayed for.

Sudden Death.

Mr. George Hinchliff, one of the foremen over the stone masons at the Water Works, died suddenly at the residence of Mechanical Engineer Lowry, in the Thirteenth ward, yesterday. He had been suffering with consumption, superinduced by standing in the water while engaged in working on the foundations. About three weeks ago he went to Michigan for his health, and only returned on Saturday. Yesterday evening he was sitting in a chair and telling some friends how well he felt, when he suddenly was attacked with hemorrhage of the lungs, and fell to the floor, bleeding. He expired in about ten minutes.

The deceased had been connected with the new Water Works from the commencement. He was an excellent workman, and a man who was generally beloved. His death will be sincerely mourned.

Attempted Suicide.

Considerable excitement was created on Congress street, Saturday evening, by the report that a woman named Timmony, residing between Franklin street and Fifth avenue, had committed suicide by drowning, during the afternoon of that day. When the facts of the case were developed, however, it appeared that the woman had really thrown herself into the Monongahela river, near Temperanceville, but that she had been dragged out of the water before life was extinct. It is further said that she was under the influence of liquor at the time of the attempt to commit suicide, and that her rescuer brought her before the Mayor, who fined her one dollar and costs for drunkenness. The wagon which took her home was folowed by a great crowd, who were under the impression that she was dead until they arrived at the house.

Councilmanic Ballist.

The base ball fever has infected councilmanic circles, and next Friday afternoon, the crisis will be reached in a match game at Union Park. The sides have been chosen with great care in order that the full base ball skill of the councilmen may be exhibited. The following are the names:

Fat men weighing 210 pounds—Messrs. Gus L. Braun, Captain; R. B. Brown, pitcher, Dr. A. H. Goss, F. Kestner, Dr. Arnholt, J. P. Vierheller, John Harrison, Dr. Ahl, S. H. Goldthrope; scorer, George Booth.

Lean men weighing 110 pounds—W. W. Thompson, Captain; W. W. Nisbett, P. Foley, C. H. Powers, H. D. Rolte, P. D. Perchment, Thomas Kosewell, H. Frank, John Torrence; scorer, E. S. Morrow.

Umpire—John A. Fox.

Gate keepers—John W. McGimpsey and Chas. Jeremy.

Something thrilling in the way of a game is anticipated.

Morganza Water Works.

The managers of the State Reform School, on Saturday let the contracts for pipe and pipe laying for the water works at Morganza. The pipe contract was let to Mr. Wm. Paul, Jr., late Superintendent of the Allegheny Water Works. There will be about 8,000 feet of pipe in all. The figures are as follows: Six inch pipe $1.05 per lineal foot; five inch, ninety-three cents; four inch, seventy-five cents; two inch, fifty-five cents. Six inch valves, twenty-one dollars and fifty cents each; five inch, twenty dollars; four inch fifteen dollars; two inch eleven dollars; fire plugs, thirty-eight dollars and fifty cents. The highest bid was: For six inch pipe $1.75; six inch valves, forty-four dollars; fire plugs, seventy-five dollars; smaller sizes of pipe and valves in proportion.

The price to be paid Mr. Paul is as low as the work could be well done for, the rate per foot of six-inch pipe, including the laying, being about four cents per pound.

There will be two reservoirs, each fifty by thirty-five feet, and fifteen feet in depth. This will give a total capacity, allowing twelve feet of water, of about 300,000 gallons. The contract has been let to McCann & Dawson, of Steubenville, Ohio, at eighteen cents per yard for excavation, three dollars and seventy-five cents per cubic yard for stone work, and seven dollars per cubic yard for masonry in the main hole. An idea of the range of bids on the reservoir may be had when it is stated that the highest, except one, for excavations was seventy five cents per yard. The one referred to wanted $8,700 for the excavation, which, at the liberal estimate of 3,100 yards, would be $2.75, or about five cents a shovel full.

EXCITING RUNAWAY.

A Wagon Upturned—Several Persons Injured.

Yesterday morning a wagon load of people started in a vehicle drawn by two horses, to go from Woods' Run to the Leetsdale camp meeting. As they were passing down the hill on the Brighton road, not far from where they started, the horses became frightened and ran off. They had not proceeded far before the wagon was overturned and the people all thrown out. The driver, John Dicer, was badly bruised, and his wife and child severely injured. Wm. Evans also had two ribs broken. These were all the persons injured, although it seemed a miracle that any of the party escaped. The wagon was considerably damaged.

ALLEGHENY WATER SUPPLY.

The Troy Hill Reservoir—The Upper Basin Completed—A Full Supply of the Aqueous Fluid.

For the past six months work has been going on at the upper reservoir, on Troy Hill, Allegheny. The improvement consists in making the embankment five feet higher. The slopes of the basin have been covered with a layer of puddle two feet thick, and considerable other work has been done. In addition, the Water Committee has laid a thirty-inch pipe in the heart of the division wall, from the outlet chamber to the outside of the division wall, and connecting it with the city supply pipe. They have also extended the outlet pipe to the chamber, and laid influent pipes from the chamber to the bottom of the basin, down the face of the inside slope. The embankment is fifteen feet wide at the top. The slopes are made free from all perishable matter. These two items will make waste or leakage, which was so great in the basin formerly, now next to nothing. The old walls and slopes were partly gravel, partly brick pavement, partly inferior rubble masonry, partly cobble stone work, and mostly holes and crevices. In addition to the impervious slopes of the improved basin, the division wall rests on a concrete foundation and with the bottom of the reservoir is laid in the best cement. The capacity of the basin will now be eleven million gallons, or three days' supply for the entire city. The compartment just finished is the smaller of the two and has a capacity of about five million gallons. The lower basin is to be finished in the same way.

Saturday afternoon was the time fixed for letting the water in, and several hundred persons, including Councilmen and city officials, gathered on the hill to see how the basin answered. The water was turned on about two o'clock, and after the two inlets had been somewhat repaired and strengthened—the pressure of the water forcing them to give way—the aqueous fluid poured in in steady streams and rapidly began to fill the basin. After the work had been thoroughly inspected, general satisfaction was expressed with it and there was an adjournment to the engine room, where victuals and drink, with toasts and speech-making were in order. The meeting was presided over by Ex-Sheriff Fleming, who made an address, referring to the history of the Allegheny Water Works from the outstart. Other addresses were also made by Mr. J. B. Kennedy, Mayor Phillips, Mr. John McGraw, Mr. Nuttall, and others, which brought the inspection to a pleasant conclusion. Everybody seemed to be satisfied with the plan which had been adopted to increase the capacity of the basin, and it was generally conceded that Allegheny hereafter could have a full water supply.

MAGEE VS. McCARTHY.

Mayor McCarthy's Answer—He Claims to be the Only Legal Mayor—The Basis of his Claim.

On Saturday afternoon the counsel for Mayor McCarthy filed an answer to the proceedings brought by Christy Magee, to secure the mayoralty chair. Mayor McCarthy's answer is quite voluminous. It sets forth the fact of his election regularly under the Constitutional provisions, on the third Tuesday of February, 1874, and his induction into office on the 1st of February, 1875; that the Treasurer, Controller, and members of both branches of Councils, were elected and sworn in at the same time, and under the same articles of the Constitution; that the only proper time to divide the wards into election districts was after the first election under the new Constitution; but if otherwise, and as Mr. Magee claims, the omission is not fatal to said election or material to this issue; that the "pretended" election, by virtue of which Mr. Magee claims the office of Mayor, was invalid, and confers no title to the position on him, for the reason that the law demands the Mayor shall give at least ten days' notice by advertisement in the newspapers authorized to do the city printing, which notice was not given; that the Attorney General of the State officially informed Councils that the third Tuesday of February, 1874, (Mr. McCarthy was elected on that day) was the proper time for the election; that such date was generally understood among the qualified voters as the proper time and that the day upon which the pretended election of Mr. Magee was held was not so understood; that Mr. Magee knew this from the fact that he was Chairman of the Democratic City Executive Committee, and as such was actively engaged in promoting the election of the Democratic candidate; that the certificate of election procured from the Prothonotary by Mr. Magee is defective in that it does not mention the term for which he should serve, and in other respects insufficient; that it does not appear in Mr. Magee's petition that he has qualified for entering upon the duties of the office by taking the oath provided for by the city charter.

Attached is the correspondence between President Gross on behalf of Councils, and Attorney General Dimmick relative to the bearing of the new Constitution on elections, the letter of the latter supporting the position taken by the Mayor in this answer.

The case will be argued on Saturday next.

A TEST CASE.

Circulars from Commercial Agencies—An Aggrieved Party Seeks Redress of Court.

Saturday morning, Mr. Frank P. Kohen, of Allegheny, through his counsel instituted suit in the Court of Common Pleas No 1 against McKillops Commercial Agency of New York, represented here by W. H. Howells.

Mr. Kohen's statement is, that as a member of the firm of Kohen & Donahue, he has been in the grocery business for about a year. That on or about the 7th day of August, 1875, one of the circulars regularly issued by the Agency named, and sent to all their subscribers, contained the following information and reference to the firm of Kohen & Donahue:

"Kohen & Donahue, grocers, Allegheny City—F. Kohen's interest sold by the Sheriff."

The effect of this was to greatly impair the firm's standing and credit, and Mr. Kohen claims besides that it is a wholly false and groundless one. Mr. Kohen goes on to explain that at one time a suit was brought against him and John McCagh, in which suit he went McC's. bail for house rent, and the latter failing to pay he (Kohen) paid the money in full, $365, with interest and cost when the Sheriff made demand on McCagh. He alleges his interest was never sold out by the Sheriff, and that he was simply compelled pay a bill for another party. The item in the circular necessitated an extensive correspondence to explain matters to his friends, and greatly injured his credit. He therefore demands $5,000 damages. It is somewhat of a test case to decide the right of Commercial Agencies to publish lists of judgments.

IN THE GROVE.

The Closing Day of the Castle Shannon Camp Meeting—Yesterday's Services.

Yesterday being the last day of the Castle Shannon camp meeting a large number of people visited the encampment.

The first service of the day was a "love feast," which was quite enjoyable to the large number who participated. At 11 o'clock, A. M. Rev. Cowl, D. D., preached an able sermon from Revelations 1:10. He presented the importance of faithfulness.

Rev. S. R. Frazier, of the Third U. P. Church of this city, delivered an eloquent discourse at 3 o'clock, P. M. The theme he presented was working for Christ.

Rev. J. H. Hull, President of the Conference, preached the closing discourse at 7:30 o'clock, after which half an hour was devoted to holding an experience meeting.

Mr. T. F. Scott, President of the Camp Meeting Association, then tendered the thanks of the Association to the congregation for the good order maintained, during the entire meeting. The congregation formed in line, and they marched around the encampment, singing as they marched, after which the doxology was sung, and they dispersed.

The meeting as a whole, was a decided success. The aggregate receipts are estimated at $2,800. The greater portion of the cottagers will remain on the encampment until September 1st, when the Methodist Conference will be held.

THE PISTOL.

Attempted Murder—Dave Hall's Last Exploit—He Puts a Bullet into Constable Hays—The Assailant in Jail—Condition of the Victim.

The notorious Dave Hall comes to the front again. The victim of his wrath this time was Constable J. J. Hays, of Allegheny, and the incitement to David's revenge grew out of his being "Sheriffed," out a few days ago. He had been keeping a saloon in the Diamond Allegheny; while his place was in progress constable Joe. Hays did what is technically called "jerked it," and capturing the "lay out" had Hall arrested. After that constable Hays sold the Hall saloon out at an authorized sale. Then the owner of the premises got out a writ of possession, and in the circumlocution office of the Allegheny Alderman if fell to Hay's lot. Only a few days ago he found four vagrants in the place, and succeeded in taking one of them to Alderman Edgar's office, where the man, one Jerry Maloney, was sent to jail for twenty days. Soon after he paid the fine and was released, and shortly after, the officer, in examining the premises in his charge, discovered a hanging lamp, for which he was responsible, missing, and found, subsequently, Maloney was the thief. Maloney was again put in durance, and after a hearing he was sent to jail preliminary to a trial. Saturday evening about five o'clock Hays had lodged Maloney in jail and was coming out when he encountered Hall and a companion named Sailer in the jail yard. Hall came up to him and with an oath remarked that he would give him something to think about. At the same instant he drew a revolver and fired right into the face of Hays and then immediately fled across the street into Quinn's saloon. Hays fell to the ground, but the noise of the shot attracted a number of people to the ground and he was picked up by Warden Smith and Deputy Gang and carried into Dr. Donnelly's office. His face and clothes were covered with blood, and a crimson stream was oozing from a frightful wound on the left cheek, about two inches below the eye. The cheek was black with powder which, together with the blood and the white, death-like color of his face, made a ghastly appearance. When he arrived at the surgeon's office, he was to weak to sit upright, and being placed in a chair in a reclining position, Surgeon D. began to examine the wound. The ball had torn its way through the cheek bone, and taken its course downward, lodging in the throat near the carotoid artery. It was a large No. 2 cartridge, and that it had been fired with intent to kill was evident from the appearance of the skin, which was lodged full of powder, showing that the weapon must have been held almost against it. In a few moments the wound had swollen alarmingly, and the patient complained of the acute pain it was causing him. Fearing that tampering with it would bring on inflammation, and cause the man's death, the surgeon deemed it best not to try to extract the ball, having assured himself that it would in no way interfere with the full operation of the organs. The patient was then placed in a carriage and taken to his home. No. 6 Jefferson street, Allegheny. Meanwhile the officers had been in pursuit of Hall. They succeeded in capturing him. Hall came along quietly enough when he found resistance was useless. Information was made against him before Mayor McCarthy, and he was lodged in jail to await the result of Hays' injuries.

The wounded man was attended by three surgeons on Saturday night and yesterday, but no attempt was made to extract the ball. He was able to talk on Saturday night, but wandered in his mind. Yesterday his powers of articulation failed him, but otherwise he seemed to be improving, and last night the attending physicians had hopes of his recovery. He suffers considerable pain, but as he is a strong man, it is thought he will be able to withstand the shock. Meanwhile Hall takes things easy in jail, having the liberty of the corridors, and apparently being unconcerned as to results.

THE SEPTEMBER MAGAZINES.

Scribner's Monthly.

The September number of Scribner is excellent in every respect. The leading article gives a view of Chicago before and since the great fire, numerously illustrated with choice cuts. Col. Waring continues his "Farmer's Vacation" in Guernsey. William Page has a very interesting and learned "Study of Shakespeare's Portraits," with photographic views of the German death-masks of the great dramatist. Dr. Holland's "Story of Sevenoaks" is continued with unabated zest, and Edmund C. Stedman commences a critical article on "The Minor Victorian Poets." There is a valuable historical contribution, telling the fortunes of the Declaration of Independence, which so nearly fell into the hands of the British in 1814. The editorial departments of the September Scribner are filled with choice bits of wisdom and wit, and the entire contents are fully up to its high standard.

PETERSON'S JOURNAL.

The interesting serial, "The Deserted Husband," is continued in the September number of "Peterson's Journal of Popular Literature." This number also contains the usual fine assortment of short stories and poetry, with a number of Pithy articles under the head of "Topics of the Times"—including "The Ohio Election," "Great Surgical Operations," "In a Nutshell," "Hard Money," "Taking Iron," "Religious Fanaticism," "Butler on Contraction," "The Public Schools," "Repudiation," "Gleanings," &c. The magazine is getting better with each successive number and is well worth $3.00 a year, the price of the subscription.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE.

The "Living Age" keeps up its high reputation for valuable reading matter, which could not be purchased for three times the money for which it is here offered. The contents for August 21st include:—"Balloons and Voyages in the Air," "A Month in a Japanese Farm House," "A Chapter of University History," "Fated to be Free," "Prof. Cairnes," "Scruples," "An Hysterical Fair." Among the poems—"The Fairy Shell," Mignonette" and the "Happy Man."

AN OLD MAN'S SAD DEATH.

A Victim of Melancholy Puts an End to His Life.

Saturday morning the family of Mr. Jacob Roth, saloon keeper, No. 1207 Carson street, South Side, were horrified to discover that the father of Mr. Roth had committed suicide during the previous night. The victim was John Dietrich Roth. He was seventy-one years of age and had been quite melancholy of late by reason of suffering from rupture of the bowels. This was especially noticeable the last few days, but no special anxiety was felt about it. The old gentleman took great pleasure in reading the details of the suicide of Kratz, which occurred about ten days ago. Saturday morning as he did not put in an appearance at breakfast, a little grandson was dispatched to his room—which was occupied by him alone—to ascertain if he desired his breakfast taken up to him. The lad went up at 8:30 o'clock and returned, saying that his grandpa was standing alongside his bed, but would not speak. Then the other inmates of the house hastened to his room, and to their horror, discovered him suspended bp a clothes line from a hook in the wall near the bedstead, dead. A line had been stretched across his room for the purpose of drying some articles of clothing, and one end of this rope he converted into a noose, and placing it over his head strangled himself, allowing his feet to drag on the floor. Alderman Krehan was sent for, and he cut the body down. It was a most determined suicide, as from the manner in which the rope was placed around his neck, he would have plenty of time for meditation before life was extinct. The Coroner held an inquest, and a verdict in accordance with the facts was rendered.

TRANSFUSION OF BLOOD.

A Medical Experiment—A Successful Operation—The Remedy not of Avail.

Last evening, Dr. Gallaher assisted by Dr. Paollock, performed the interesting operation of the transfusion of blood, upon a patient who was in the last stages of dissolution. The patient was Mr. Wm. B. Dixon, a resident of Indianapolis, but formerly of this city. He was an old gentleman about fifty-eight years of age. He had been suffering for some time past with a painful chronic complaint, which seemed to defy all medical skill. At length as a test and at his own request, the operation of the transfusion of blood was performed. The blood was taken from the arm of his son, a young man about twenty-five years of age. Altogether about nine ounces were injected into his veins, and the effect at first was quite encouraging. These favorable symptoms continued for about an hour, when a change occurred, and the patient seemed to sink back again. He had evidently gone beyond the reach of medical skill, where no medicine or operation could effect a cure. At last accounts he was still living, but his hold on life was very fragile, and his dissolution was momentarily expected.

The operation was performed very skillfully, and, so far as the transfusion went, successfully. At first there were indications that it would result in the desired restoration, but the man had become too much exhausted. The patient is a man of family, and at the time of the operation was surrounded by his wife and two of his children. Two other children will be in the city this morning, though they will hardly arrive in time to see their father alive.

Too Many Undertakers.

C. W. Ehlers thinks there are too many undertakers on Ohio street, Allegheny, and he wants one of them to shut up shop. To bring about this desirable end, he filed a bill in equity on Saturday in the Court of Common Pleas against Henry Herman. Plaintiff sets forth that the defendant built an undertaking establishment on East Ohio street, Allegheny, and was doing an extensive business. The plaintiff was engaged in the livery business on Madison avenue, and being familiar with the undertaking business he proposed to unite that business with his livery. He accordingly bought out Herman's establishment, paying him for all stock, good will, &c. The defendant then signed an agreement that he would not go into the undertaking business in Allegheny county, within five years, from the 14th day of October, 1875. He did not regard this covenant, however, but has resumed the undertaking business on East Ohio street, Allegheny City, and, it is claimed, is injuring the plaintiff's business. Ehlers, therefore, asks the Court to decree that the defendant shall abstain from engaging in the undertaking business within the county, either for himself or with any other person or persons, during the five years, and that he be restrained by an injunction from so doing.

CORRESPONDENCE.

MT. SEWICKLEY.

Saturday and Sunday's Services—Great Crowds in Attendance—The Meetings Increasing in Interest—Sankey to be Present To-Day.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

MT. SEWICKLEY, August 22, 1875.

Yesterday morning's experience meeting was conducted by Rev. J. H. Rogers, and was attended with unusual feeling. The speaking was short, earnest and encouraging.

The half past ten service was conducted by Rev. A. B. Castle, who preached a very good practical sermon, from the text found in 2d Thes. 3—5th verse, "And the Lord directs your heart into the love of God" &c.

At half past one Rev. J. R. Mills occupied the attention of the children with a nice little address which deeply interested them.

Rev. A. L. Petty, of Sewickley, at three o'clock delivered an excellent sermon from Matthew, 8th chapter, 1st to 2d verses. "When he was come down from the mountain great multitudes followed him," &c.

The young men's prayer meeting was held at six o'clock, and conducted by James Thoburn; many earnest prayers were offered for the success of the meeting and the young men who attended.

The pulpit at seven o'clock was occupied by J. H. Rogers, of Ames chapel, Pittsburgh, who preached from the text, "Come thou all and all thy house into ark."

After the services were all over we were treated to some very fine music by Profs. Slack, Horner and Carr, assisted by several ladies and gentlemen.

The ministers arriving to-day were Rev. J. M. Swan, E. M. Wood, J. Dillon, Wesley Smith, J. Wright, H. D. Fisher.

It was expected by many that to-day would not be such a "big day" as the Sunday of camp meeting usually is, because of the presence of Mr. Sankey on the grounds to-morrow, everybody supposing that to-morrow would be the "big day," the sweet singer acting as sort of a card. But what a mistake, for ever since noon yesterday noon the visitors have been pouring in. The excursion trains both up and down were literally packed with men, women and children. Your correspondent stood at the entrance gate from eight o'clock to ten and during that time there was one continued line of vehicles carrying the throngs to the grounds. The inhabitants for miles around seem to be possessed of an irresistable desire to attend the meeting to-day and it is really amusing to notice the conveyances of every description which were pressed into service for the occasion. Thus the vehicles came, for hour after hour, wending their way as speedily as possible to the camp.

Of the crowd on the ground I can say that it was simply immense, and for the five or six years that meetings have been held here, no day ever exceeded this one in the number of visitors. It would be difficult to give the actual number, but from tickets taken at the gate, and personal observation, it would not be an over-estimate to place the number at 4,000, and I heard it remarked that had Mr. Sankey been here the grounds would not have held the crowd. I could hear of nobody who was disappointed at not hearing Mr. Sankey. They seemed to all know that he would not be here.

The hotels or boarding houses were pretty well filled as early as yesterday noon, and at noon to-day it was with difficulty that a meal could be secured, so immense was the crowd. A bed is one of the most difficult things to get imaginable, and I overheard one lodger of last night say that he felt satisfied when he succeeded in securing "three straws" as a couch, and would have slept sweetly had it not been for the incessant tongues of some of his fellow lodgers, who kept up a frivolous conversation until early morn. These things should be looked after by the hotel keepers.

This morning opened brightly and Nature seemed striving to do all in her power to make this an auspicious day, and she succeeded beautifully, for with the sun's rays came gentle breezes, which made it really beautiful, and the only disagreeable feature of the day was the abundance of dust which followed in huge clouds in the wake of every conveyance, blinding the poor souls who unfortunately were in the rear.

Dr. Nesbit conducted public worship at six this morning, and I must say that he was greeted with quite a good audience who appeared deeply interested in the exercises.

The experience meeting was also under the supervision of Dr. Nesbit, but a leader was not necessary, so anxious was the opportunity grasped at by those who wished to tell their experiences. The meeting only closed at the sound of the horn for ten o'clock preaching, when Rev. E. B. Snyder occupied the stand and preached one of his most powerful sermons from the text found in 1st John, 2d chapter and 27th verse. The reverend gentleman delivered the sermon, securing the interest and attention of the multitude, a feat which is rarely accomplished, and by those only whose language is perfect and oratory powerful. After the sermon communion was participated in by many. Rev. Mr. Snyder also conducted the children's meeting, delivering a nice little plain talk, which, with the anecdotes told, delighted the little ones, who turned out in large numbers.

The pulpit was occupied at three o'clock by the Rev. J. R. Mills, of Steubenville, and in that gentleman's forcible style, a sermon of remarkable power was preached from the following text: "He that is not with me is against me; he that gathereth not with me, scattereth," Math. XII, 30. "Art thou for or against us," Josh. XIII, 5th. The sermon was full of deep thought and soul stirring power.

After the sermon Hon. Jas. L. Graham made an affecting appeal for all to now settle the question whether for or against God. The appeal was very earnest, urging sinners to come and go with the children of God for they would do them good.

In the evening Rev. L. McGuire preached a stirring sermon from the text found in Acts XXVI, 28, "Almost thou persuadeth me to be a Christian." The gentleman's entreating style of delivery is well known. Several persons responded to the invitation to come to the altar of prayer.

The singing to-day was splendid. We had a good choir, a combination of many church choirs under the leadership of Profs. Burgess and Slack. The choir consisted of Prof. Horner, Ross Drum, C. B. Carr, Mrs. Taylor, Miss Frank Graham, Mrs. Blair, Miss Hemphill, and others whose names I cannot remember.

Mr. Sankey will arrive here to-morrow morning at nine o'clock. Another "big day" is looked for. BERT.

Sunday School Convention—Brilliant Speeches—An Interesting Meeting.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

OAKDALE, Aug. 20, 1875.

Thursday, August 19th, was the day appointed for a Sunday School Convention at Oakdale Presbyterian Church. The first session of the Convention convened at 10 o'clock A. M., and after spending half an hour in devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. M. N. Cornelius, the Convention was organized by electing Hon. Vincent Miller President, Rev. M. N. Cornelius Vice President, and George A. McBride Secretary. The topic entitled "Sunday School Economy" was opened by Rev. Mr. Fredricks, of Burgettstown. The subject was continued by Rev. F. R. Wotring, Dr. Jas. Prestley, Rev. M. N. Cornelius and closed by Rev. G. M. Herr. This subject was a very interesting one to Sunday School instructors, and the remarks made by the speakers were eloquent and instructive. After singing a hymn the second topic of the programme "The Superintendent," was opened by D. M. Roy, Sunday School Superintendent of Burgettstown, who was followed by Rev. J. J. Beacom. The speakers gave us a picture of the model Superintendent. Next came the question: "Is it Sunday School economy to be without blackboards, maps and such help in Sunday School work?" Answered affirmatively by Samuel Collins, J. F. Stonecipher, and in the negative by Dr. James Prestley. After singing a hymn and bendiction by Rev. F. A. Hutchinson, the Convention adjourned to meet at 2 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

Convention was called to order by the Vice President. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. F. R. Wotring. The first performance on the programme was an address by Dr. James Prestley; subject, "The Earnest Teacher." Topic—"The teaching power of the Sunday School," T. J. Gillespie, of Pittsburgh. Mr. Gillespie made some very fine remarks on this subject. Question—"Should the teacher let any lesson pass without making it practical and personal?" Remarked on by Mr. J. D. Carlisle, of Pittsburgh, Mansfield Brown and Prof. James E. Morrow. "How to Prepare a Lesson," was responded to by Prof. James F. Morrow, Rev. Mr. Fredricks, Rev. F. A. Hutchinson and Dr. Jas. Prestley. "How shall I get my class to study the lesson?" Answered by Mansfield Brown, J. F. Stoncipher, Prof. James E. Morrow, Rev. F. R. Wotring and Dr. Jas. Prestley. Benediction by Rev. F. R. Wotring.

Convention adjourned to meet at 7:30.

Evening Session.

The Convention re-assembled at 7:30 P. M. Devotional exercises conducted by Prof. Jas. E. Morrow. Topic, "Relation of Parents to the Sunday School," J. D Carlisle, of Pittsburgh, Rev. M. N. Cornelius, J. F. Stoncipher. Questions: "Is a private member justifiable in refusing to teach while members of session (equally as well qualified to teach) refuse or neglect to take a class?" Remarks by T. J. Gillespie, Rev. F. R. Wotring, Mansfield Brown and J. D. Carlisle. Question: "Are teachers' meetings practicable in the country?" Answered by J. D. Carlisle and T. J. Gillespie.

The closing exercises were conducted by Rev. M. N. Cornelius.

Benediction by Rev. W. P. Shaw.

CAPE MAY.

Fine Weather and Glorious Surf—The Best Locality for Bathing in Front of Congress Hall—Handsome Forms and Faces from the "Smoky City"—The Season Still at its Height.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

CONGRESS HALL, CAPE MAY, Aug. 20, 1875.

The fine weather of the past few days has filled up the hotels of this place until there is scarcely room for new comers. The surf during the past week has been glorious, and thousands daily partake of its blessings in this neighborhood. The hotels are not now complaining, and particularly is this the case with Congress Hall, which retains its pre-eminence as the house of the Cape. Less attention is paid at this pleasant house to dress and fashions than to comfort, and this, among other things, make the most enjoyable house to stop at. Our Pittsburgh people at least think so. The bathing in front of Congress Hall far excels any other locality. Particularly is this so since the erection of the abutment, which stands out about five hundred feet from shore at high tide. This acts as a break-water and a safeguard at the same time, affording ample harbor for any who venture beyond safe depth. Not once accident has occurred at this point for a long time, which speaks volumes for the safety of the Congress Hall beach. Pittsburgh has been well represented here this season; in fact it has become almost a by-word that all (or nearly all) the handsome forms and faces hail from the "Smoky City" and surroundings. Our people still cling to the Cape as the most pleasant and satisfactory summer resort. And it is a wonder that more do not come here, as the attractions of the place, particularly the glorious sea-bathing, and the pure air wafted from old ocean—fresh, balmy and invigorating—are not to be found elsewhere in the same degree. The season is still at its height, weather fine, no rain, full moon, high tide, surf glorious, no wonder that while here, hard times are lauged at and ignored. Yours, HEN LOPEN.

AMUSEMENTS.

Fifth Avenue Comedy Theatre.

The opening week of this first-class comedy place of amusement was everything that both the public and the management would desire. The houses were well filled on each occasion and the performances were good throughout. All the favorites have been retained for this week and in addition we are to have Mr. Sam. E. Ryan on the boards, together with new faces in the persons of Messrs. Kirk, Drew and Barnum. Mr. Ryan makes his first appearance this evening in an enchanting comedy as the "Irish-American," and the announcement will be received with gladness by numerous old admirers.

Trimble's Varieties.

Manager Aims intends that there shall be no lack of talent for the present week at his popular Varieties Theatre. In addition to the wonderful Cool Burgess and the mysterious Augie Schott, who have created such an extraordinary sensation throughout the past few days, he has engaged ten new artists for the present week—Miss Annie Hall, a charming singer, Miss Mary Olive, of fine abilities in song and dance, the fascinating Miss Lizzie, the German comedians, Thompson and Ranson, the great Irish specialists, Weslyn and Casey, Harry Hurdic, the "flying man," the Dutch artists, Niles and Evans—all of whom will appear this evening. Full houses will undoubtedly be the order.

Niagara Falls Excursion.

The excursion from Pittsburgh to Niagara Falls, already announced, will leave the Union Depot early Thursday morning, remain nearly twenty-four hours visiting the wonders thereabouts and return about midnight Friday. Those who would delight in a pleasant daylight trip to the great American Falls, inside of ten hours' time, and view the beautiful scenery on the way, will not neglect this rare opportunity Arrangements have been consummated for reduced charges at the hotels, and half rates of admission to all the principal points of interest while there; and the railroad fare for the round is but eight dollars. The Messrs. J. E. and W. A. Rupert, the gentlemen who have undertaken the management of the affair, have successfully conducted other excursions, and will undoubtedly make this one of pleasing memories to all who participate in it.

Musical and Dramatic.

FECHTER has arrived at his farm in Pennsylvania from his failure in Toronto.

MR. SHERIDAN SHOOK is reported to be the new lessee of the Brooklyn Theatre.

THE jewels left by the late George Jordan were recently sold at auction in London.

MISS CLARA MORRIS writes that Ireland is mainly distinguished for "rum, riots, and rheumatism."

THE London Era, of the 8th instant, says that Mrs. Rousby is still sick, and unable for the present to fulfill her engagements.

THE Boston Globe, of the 13th instant, states that Tony Pastor's combination is drawing full and enthusiastic audiences at the Globe Theatre in that city, and has well deserved its success.

MR. ARTHUR SULLIVAN, it is said, has been commissioned to compose an opera for the Italian Theatre of St. Petersburg, provided Mme. Nilsson can be secured to personate the leading character.

"LITTLE NELL" is to marry and quit the stage. Would that all the ladies who live upon the banjo, kick-ups and uncultivated voices would generally do the same thing, and leave the field clear for really capable artists.

LETTERS from Vienna state that all the works of Richard Wagner are to be performed at the Imperial Opera, under the direction of their composer, who will go to Vienna in November to superintend the rehearsal and mise-en-scene.

IT is stated that the well-known actress, Mrs. Fanny Kemble, who has been long resident in America, is engaged on her autobiography, which promises to be as exciting as most of the sensational novels, and yet full of the true life of present-day England and America. The work will appear in serial form in Scribner's Monthly.

STATE BREVITIES.

REV. D. A. BECKLEY, late of the Republican, and postmaster at Bloomsburg, Columbia county, has instituted a suit for libel against Dr. William H. Bradley, editor of the Montour American, and lays damages at $20,000!

IN LYCOMING county, in this State, it appears to have been decided that licences for taverns shall be issued only to married men only. It is a well-known axiom that few men know "how to keep a hotel." It certainly is an assistance in real hotel-keeping—that is, where travelers and boarders have to be lodged in good, clean beds, and provided with good meals—for the house to have a landlady who understands her share of the business, and the authorities of Lycoming county evidently are aware of this. The landladies, we are sorry to say, scarcely ever get the credit they deserve, for in public, as in private houses, it is usually the women who look after the housekeeping, and who contribute the most towards making them comfortable abodes.

"IT is a pleasant thing to see roses and lilies growing upon a young lady's cheek, but a bad sign to see a man's face break out in blossoms." Joke of the professional agriculturalist.

A Verdict in Accordance with Proofs.

The verdict of the public in favor of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters differs from some that might be mentioned, in being in strict accordance with the proofs repeatedly adduced in support of the claims of America's most popular remedy. It may well be doubted if there was ever a medicine in substantiation of whose merits such a mass of unsolicited testimony has accumulated. An examination of this testimony establishes a fact of the last importance to the sick and debilitated, as well as those who are exposed to unfavorable influences of climate—namely, that the Bitters are an unequaled tonic, an active and thorough specific for every disorder of the digestive, biliary and excretory organs, a reliable means of regulating the discharge of the most important functions of the body, and a supreme protective against intermittent and remittent fevers, and all other diseases to which malaria gives birth.
